Howell, 2018-05-15 Providing ways to engage students through their popular culture interests this collection brings together several essays across disciplines to show how fan practices such as writing fan fiction creating vids communicating via Tumblr and participating in film tourism can invite students to invest more of themselves into their education Both scholarship and fandom encourage passionate engagement with texts rather than passive consumption in isolation and editor Katherine Anderson Howell and her contributors find that when students are encouraged to partake in a remix classroom that encourages their fan interests they participate more in their education are more critical of experts and authorities and actively shape the discourse themselves Creating this remix classroom requires thoughtfulness on the instructor's part and so the chapters in this volume come from teachers who have carefully constructed such courses including several invaluable appendices that provide examples of methodologies course assignments teaching practices and classroom setup Each chapter also includes student responses that offer a sense of what students gained from each course The result is an exciting and entertaining new way to motivate students and teachers alike and it is sure to be a popular reference guide for instructors teaching classes from high school to graduate levels

Feminism, Self-Presentation, and Pinterest Emily S. Johnson, 2020-06-26 Feminism Self Presentation and Pinterest The Labor of Wedding Planning argues that Pinterest which has been largely criticized for perpetuating vapid stereotypical gender roles is actually a dynamic digital curation tool that facilitates meaning making around the important cultural event of the Western wedding Emily S Johnson through a thorough examination of how aspiring brides use the platform to plan their weddings found that Pinterest is a unique platform that offers brides the opportunity to construct their own wedding identity by engaging in creativity and exercising voice and agency during planning Even if the content they are consuming does support tenets of patriarchy or gender roles brides are able to make their own choices rather than having their goals determined for them through societal or familial norms and expectations The platform integrates both the online and offline labors of wedding planning as brides create meaning through the curation process and connect with the self as they execute their planning Overall Johnson argues that far from the stereotypes of fantasizing about dream weddings and luxurious lifestyles that may be unrealistic Pinterest gives brides increased ability to make their own specialized vision come to life Scholars of women's studies gender studies communication media studies cultural studies and rhetoric will find this book particularly useful
