

Using PARCC Practice Tests

Examine questions to understand key Math skills

- direct use of standards, integration of standards, and major shifts (rigor and coherence)
- different solving methods/strategies, connection between items and evidence statements, samples of items for integrative evidence statements

Use as models to create classroom assessments

- design assessments that use features of different item types MC, MS, and FIB
- evaluate resource materials by comparing content to practice tests (How does a curricula's assessment items compare to items on the practice tests? Do the items meet the same rigor level, are they integrative, etc.?)

Simulate testing conditions

- become familiar with test materials, such as gridding answers in test booklets, using calculators and scratch paper
- understand different types of questions, including MC, MS, and FIB
