lifestyle culture entertainment fashion art and architecture and news that define Southern California Started in the spring of 1961 Los Angeles magazine has been addressing the needs and interests of our region for 48 years The magazine continues to be the definitive resource for an affluent population that is intensely interested in a lifestyle that is uniquely Southern Californian      Settler Colonialism in the Twentieth Century Caroline Elkins,Susan Pedersen,2012-11-12 Postcolonial states and metropolitan societies still grapple today with the divisive and difficult legacies unleashed by settler colonialism Whether they were settled for trade or geopolitical reasons these settler communities had in common their shaping of landholding laws and race relations in colonies throughout the world By looking at the detail of settlements in the twentieth century from European colonial projects in Africa and expansionist efforts by the Japanese in Korea and Manchuria to the Germans in Poland and the historical trajectories of Israel Palestine and South Africa and analyzing the dynamics set in motion by these settlers the contributors to this volume establish points of comparison to offer a new framework for understanding the character and fate of twentieth century empires      The Library Quarterly ,1980 Includes section Reviews      Meeting the Challenges of Elder Care Yayoi Saitō,Reiko Abe Auestad,Kari Wærness,2010 Based on comparative and collaborative studies of Japanese and Norwegian specialists this book focuses upon the critical analysis of rationality of care with an empirical examination of care services in the two countries The book argues that elder care is not simply the act of labor but that of love and it looks at such aspects of care as home help new public management and social enterprise Predicated on the historical experience and contemporary reality of elder care in both countries the study confronts the commercial rationalization of care practices and explores their desirable forms      The Language of Life Debra Niehoff,2005-05-15 Cooperation requires conversation Human beings speak to one another Sounds scents and postures allow animals to make their point While individual cells can't talk hiss growl or bare their teeth they nevertheless communicate regularly Their language is based not on words or gestures but on chemistry using molecules where we would use words constructing sentences from chains of proteins The cells that make up the bodies of multicellular organisms inform wheedle command exhort reassure nurture criticize and instruct each other to direct every physiological function report every newsworthy event record every memory heal every wound And each of those chemical conversations represents an opportunity for scientists and physicians The molecular biologists who worked for over a decade to sequence the human genome have sometimes referred to that sequence as the book of life To our cells that book is no more than a dictionary only living cells can converse forming the network that allows our 60 trillion cells to function as a single organism For nearly a century researchers have been straining to hear the whispered conversations among cells hoping to master the basics of their language They know that if we can decipher and translate this cellular chatter we have the potential for sending signals of our own that could repair wounds reduce cholesterol control insulin levels or even block the reproduction of cancer cells The possibilities are as endless as they are intriguing The Language of Life is a fantastic story of discovery blending the vision of

Becoming Abolitionists Derecka Purnell,2021-10-05 A NONAME BOOK CLUB PICK Named a Kirkus Reviews Best Book of 2021 Becoming Abolitionists is ultimately about the importance of asking questions and our ability to create answers And in the end Purnell makes it clear that abolition is a labor of love one that we can accomplish together if only we decide to Nia Evans Boston Review For more than a century activists in the United States have tried to reform the police From community policing initiatives to increasing diversity none of it has stopped the police from killing about three people a day Millions of people continue to protest police violence because these solutions do not match the problem the police cannot be reformed In Becoming Abolitionists Purnell draws from her experiences as a lawyer writer and organizer initially skeptical about police abolition She saw too much sexual violence and buried too many friends to consider getting rid of police in her hometown of St Louis let alone the nation But the police were a placebo Calling them felt like something and something feels like everything when the other option seems like nothing Purnell details how multi racial social movements rooted in rebellion risk taking and revolutionary love pushed her and a generation of activists toward abolition The book travels across geography and time and offers lessons that activists have learned from Ferguson to South Africa from Reconstruction to contemporary protests against police shootings Here Purnell argues that police can not be reformed and invites readers to envision new systems that work to address the root causes of violence Becoming Abolitionists shows that abolition is not solely about getting rid of police but a commitment to create and support different answers to the problem of harm in society and most excitingly an opportunity to reduce and eliminate harm in the first place Cumulated Index Medicus ,1989
