

Sloths

Sloths are a medium-sized mammals. There are two-toed sloths and the three-toed sloth. They are classified into six different species.

Appearance

- The two species are quite similar in appearance.
- Roundish head, tiny ears, sad look-eyes, shaggy tails.

Diet

Sloth mainly eat the tree buds, new shoots, fruit and leaves of Cecropia tree. Some two-toed sloths also eat insects, small reptiles and birds.

Fascinating Fact

Location

Sloths are trees-dwelling animals. They are found in the jungles of Central and South America.

Enemies

Sloths usually only leave the tree to go to the toilet once a week on the ground. This is when they are most vulnerable to being attacked by their main predators such as jaguars, the harpy eagle and snakes.

Fun Facts

Their fur is around the same colour as trees where they live. It used to be thought sloths slept for 15 to 20 hours a day. However it's now believed they only sleep around 10 hours a day.

Travel Writing and Atrocities Robert Burroughs, 2010-06-24 Looking at travelogues, ethnographic monographs, consular reports, diaries and letters, sketches, photography and more, Burroughs examines eyewitness travel reports of atrocities committed in European funded slave regimes in the Congo Free State, Portuguese West Africa and the Putumayo district of the Amazon rainforest during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. As Burroughs articulates as well as bringing home to readers ongoing brutalities, eyewitness narratives importantly contributed to debates on humanitarianism, trade, colonialism and race and racial prejudice in late Victorian and Edwardian Britain.

Principles and Practice of Clinical Parasitology Stephen Gillespie, Richard D. Pearson, 2003-01-24 A comprehensive account of protozoan and metazoan diseases in modern clinical practice with orientation towards clinical management of parasitic infections. In the past, parasitology was considered as an obscure subject of little relevance to the majority of clinicians and microbiologists. Over the last decade, however, much has happened to change this, not least the explosion in foreign travel. This textbook is the fourth in the Principles and Practice series, providing an expansive and detailed coverage of clinical microbiology. It has a similar appeal to that of Zuckerman's Principles and Practice of Clinical Virology, with an international authorship and emphasis placed on integrating new knowledge in a clinically relevant manner. An essential up to date sourcebook on the fundamentals of human parasitology. Provides a global approach with renowned and international authorship. Completes the quartet of Principles and Practice series in Microbiology.

Precipitation Partitioning by Vegetation John T. Van Stan, II, Ethan Gutmann, Jan Friesen, 2020-01-01 This book presents research on precipitation partitioning processes in vegetated ecosystems, putting them into a global context. It describes the processes by which meteoric water comes into contact with the vegetation's canopy, typically the first surface contact of precipitation on land. It also discusses how precipitation partitioning by vegetation impacts the amount, patterning and chemistry of water reaching the surface as well as the amount and timing of evaporative return to the atmosphere. Although this process has been extensively studied, this is the first review of the global literature on the partitioning of precipitation by forests, shrubs, crops, grasslands and other less studied plant types. The authors offer global contextualization combined with a detailed discussion of the impacts for the climate and terrestrial ecohydrological systems. As such, this comprehensive overview is a valuable reference tool for a wide range of specialists and students in the fields of geoscience and the environment.
