Railway Development Impacts On Urban Dynamics:

Railway Development Frank Bruinsma, Eric Pels, Hugo Priemus, Piet Rietveld, Bert van Wee, 2007-12-22 The revitalisation of railway station areas has been a hot issue in policy making in Europe in recent years The introduction of two new railway systems the high speed train and light rail systems has pushed forward the redevelopment of not only railway stations themselves but also of their in many cases deteriorated direct surroundings Examples of revitalisation of railway station areas can be found throughout Europe for example in countries like England Liverpool France Euralille Germany Berlin and the Netherlands Amsterdam South Axis The dynamics of revitalisation of railway station areas can best be understood by combining the sights of several disciplines economics and spatial sciences being the most important disciplines This book therefore addresses the subject from a multi disciplinary perspective Railway station area redevelopment projects try to cope with the creased lack of interoperability and interconnectivity between infrastructures and boost the local regional economy by creating a new high quality multifunctional urban landscape at the same time At present the initial outcomes with the transformation of deteriorated railway station areas into modern mixed office shopping and residential areas stems hopeful but what are the prospects of those redeveloped areas Most of the papers contained in this volume were presented at the special session Railway stations and urban dynamics of the 45 conference of the European Regional Science Association ERSA held in Amsterdam the Netherlands during August 2005 Proceedings of the 21st International Symposium on Advancement of Construction Management and Real Estate K.
