

Rainforest Similes and Metaphors

Choose from this selection of phrases to add to your descriptive writing about the rainforest.

Similes

as humid as a summer bath
as thick as wet fog
as colourful as a splattered rainbow
as damp as dew
as green as an emerald
as dark as a cavern
as dense as a ball of string
as crowded as a city street
as fragrant as a flower market
as noisy as a motorway

Metaphors

The walls of leaves were impenetrable.
A snake rested on a nest of vines.
The smell of flowers was a warm embrace.
Fireflies danced through the night.
The trickle of water was a whisper.
The sea of green spread out below.
Monkey calls floated down through the branches.
The forest floor was a carpet of earth and roots.
The sounds of rain was never ending.
The canopy was a ceiling of moving art.

Personification About The Rainforest:

God in the Rainforest Kathryn T. Long, 2019-01-22 In January of 1956 five young evangelical missionaries were speared to death by a band of the Waorani people in the Ecuadorian Amazon Two years later two missionary women the widow of one of the slain men and the sister of another with the help of a Wao woman were able to establish peaceful relations with the same people who had killed their loved ones The highly publicized deaths of the five men and the subsequent efforts to Christianize the Waorani quickly became the defining missionary narrative for American evangelicals during the second half of the twentieth century God in the Rainforest traces the formation of this story and shows how Protestant missionary work among the Waorani came to be one of the missions most celebrated by Evangelicals and most severely criticized by anthropologists and others who accused missionaries of destroying the indigenous culture Kathryn T Long offers a study of the complexities of world Christianity at the ground level for indigenous peoples and for missionaries anthropologists environmentalists and other outsiders For the first time Long brings together these competing actors and agendas to reveal one example of an indigenous people caught in the cross hairs of globalization

Animism in Rainforest and Tundra Marc Brightman, Vanessa Elisa Grotti, Olga Ulturgasheva, 2014-02-01 Amazonia and Siberia classic regions of shamanism have long challenged western understandings of man's place in the world By exploring the social relations between humans and non human entities credited with human like personhood not only animals and plants but also things such as artifacts trade items or mineral resources from a comparative perspective this volume offers valuable insights into the constitutions of humanity and personhood characteristic of the two areas The contributors conducted their ethnographic fieldwork among peoples undergoing transformative processes of their lived environments such as the depletion of natural resources and migration to urban centers They describe here fundamental relational modes that are being tested in the face of change presenting groundbreaking research on personhood and agency in shamanic societies and contributing to our global understanding of social and cultural change and continuity spanning media discourse scientific discourse NGO communications political speech and social media messages in English The book presents an overview of different arguments conveyed through metaphors around five key themes climate change mitigation the evolution of climate change global and local effects the significance of climate change in specific countries and the relationship between climate change and other contemporary social issues The volume highlights how the complexity of climate change often necessitates the use of metaphor and the value of further research on the argumentative function of metaphor in elucidating its ideological dimensions in climate crisis discourse This book will be of interest to scholars in discourse analysis corpus linguistics cognitive linguistics and environmental communication Carleton Papers in

Applied Language Studies, 1997 The Ethnobotany of Eden Robert A. Voeks, 2018-06-27 In the mysterious and pristine forests of the tropics a wealth of ethnobotanical panaceas and shamanic knowledge promises cures for everything from cancer and AIDS to the common cold To access such miracles we need only to discover and protect these medicinal treasures before they succumb to the corrosive forces of the modern world A compelling biocultural story certainly and a popular perspective on the lands and peoples of equatorial latitudes but true Only in part In The Ethnobotany of Eden geographer Robert A Voeks unravels the long lianas of history and occasional strands of truth that gave rise to this irresistible jungle medicine narrative By exploring the interconnected worlds of anthropology botany and geography Voeks shows that well intentioned scientists and environmentalists originally crafted the jungle narrative with the primary goal of saving the world's tropical rainforests from destruction It was a strategy deployed to address a pressing environmental problem one that appeared at a propitious point in history just as the Western world was taking a more globalized view of environmental issues And yet although supported by science and its practitioners the story was also underpinned by a persuasive mix of myth sentimentality and nostalgia for a long lost tropical Eden Resurrecting the fascinating history of plant prospecting in the tropics from the colonial era to the present day The Ethnobotany of Eden rewrites with modern science the degradation narrative we've built up around tropical forests revealing the entangled origins of our fables of forest cures
