

Persuasive Research Paper Assignment Sheet – Eng 28 Fall 2015

Directions: Write a 4 to 5 page persuasive research paper on the topic of your choice. This means that your purpose is to ask a question about a debatable issue and, through research and analysis of the issue, decide where you stand. This means that you must form an informed opinion about the issue through research. You will then write a paper where you inform your reader about your topic while at the same time persuading him or her that your point of view about the issue is valid. If you are having trouble narrowing your topic, please come and see me.

Requirements:

Format: Your paper should be written in Times New Roman font with one inch margins on all sides. The upper left hand corner of the first page should include your name, the date, the class, the assignment, and your word count. It should have a title, which should be centered above the first line of your paper. These guidelines are the same as they have been for every paper you have written for me. Please consult the format guide that came with your syllabus if you have any questions.

Length: Your paper must be at least 1300 words including the works cited page, double spaced, and it may be no longer than five pages (not including works cited page). Please include your word count in the upper left hand corner of the first page.

Sources: Your paper must cite, by quoting word for word or paraphrasing/summarizing, at least five different sources. Only one of these may be a non-library website. The others must be books, magazine or newspaper articles, online database articles, or other reputable sources that have been approved by me.

Your paper must include a Works Cited page that lists your five (or more) sources in correct MLA format.

Friendly Advice:

If you have never written a research paper before, it may seem like a big task. However, if you follow the steps that we go through in class and keep up with your research, you may find it to be an enjoyable process.

Be sure to turn in all required papers and write required drafts ON TIME. Falling behind is one of the worst things that can happen to a paper during this process. Don't be the student who stays up all night writing his or her first draft.

Bring all of your work for your research paper (notes, drafts, sources, etc.) to class every day. You will want to have them with you for in-class work time.

Write about something you are genuinely curious about. Don't write about a topic simply because you think it will be easy, or you think you should. We will be doing this assignment for a long time, and you don't want to be stuck writing about a topic you don't care about.

If you are feeling lost, or if you are having any problems with this assignment, please let me know as soon as possible. I would be happy to talk to you about any concerns you have.

While I will be giving you a lot of class time to work on this project, you need to realize that your research paper will require a considerable amount of time outside of class. I would suggest that you spend the first two weeks doing research and gathering information. Then, you should begin to organize your information into an outline some time around the end of the second week. If you have done your research well, it should not be difficult to produce a rough draft. Next, polish your draft. Integrate quotations and paraphrases from your sources if you haven't already. Make sure that you have covered all of the information you wanted to include in the most interesting, engaging manner possible.

of writing. Consequently each essay functions as a standalone text that can easily complement other selected readings in writing or writing intensive courses across the disciplines at any level. Volume 2 continues the tradition of the previous volume with topics such as the rhetorical situation, collaboration, documentation styles, weblogs, invention, writing assignment interpretation, reading critically, information literacy, ethnography, interviewing, argument, document design, and source integration.

From Struggling Students to Successful Writers in 7 Easy Steps Joanna Posey, 2009-09. This volume is the first of 2 volumes that are being released together but under separate covers. Volume 1 contains the instructional guide to teach special education students and English language learners to be successful writers in 7 easy steps. In view of the increasing educational dropout rate of these special populations, this unique, simple program offers encouragement, hope, and success to students who are struggling in developing their writing skills. Not only is this program easy to learn and remember, but students are able to increase their writing skills in shorter periods of time. This volume contains five no-frills, bare-bones lesson plans along with teacher comments. It also includes reproducible Master Guide Sheets and student self-evaluation forms. The simplified color coding system is used as a consistent, predictable routine in each writing activity. This program, like no other, promotes student self-confidence and renewed interest in learning. The words "I can't write" turn into "Yes, I can!" However, the best-kept secret is that these 7 easy steps will help all students. Listen to what the kids are saying: "I had a lot of fun with Steps 1 to 7. They really helped me with my work." Comments from an 8th grade student: "The first thing I learned was Steps 1 to 7. I learned how to write better paragraphs." Comments from an 8th grade student: "I learned how to web my ideas using complete sentences." Comments from an 8th grade student: "I did really well on my writing assessment because I used the 7 steps." Comments from a 9th grade student: "I couldn't write a complete sentence. With these steps, I can write complete paragraphs and essays for Language Arts and Geography. I did well in my writing test too." Comments from a 9th grade student: "Listen to what teachers are saying. I have been in meetings where parents have commented how effective her writing program has been with helping their kids. I've often heard parents express their gratitude for their child's success due to Ms. Posey's teaching." Comments from a junior high teacher: "After the 9th graders took the writing assessment, several of the students commented on how good they felt about their writing abilities that were a direct result of the efforts of Ms. Posey." Comments from a junior high teacher: "Her strategies and writing techniques resulted in 50% improvement, an impressive increase in the scores of resource students for the 9th grade direct writing assessment. This is the highest achievement I've seen in my 30 years of teaching." Comments from a secondary special education teacher: Exploring Spoken English
