Pets Who Want to Kill Themselves Duncan Birmingham, 2009-12-01 PEOPLE LOVE THEIR PETS SOME PEOPLE LOVE THEIR PETS A LITTLE TOO MUCH Who could blame Mr Whiskers for trying to high dive from a penthouse window or Fluffy for crawling into a washing machine After being dressed up for Halloween married off in elaborate weddings toted everywhere in baby backpacks or just plain coddled within an inch of their sanity by obsessively doting owners these pets are on the verge of a nervous breakdown Or worse They d call the suicide hotline but they don t have fingers How Animals Grieve Barbara J. Suicidal Jesse Bering, 2018-10-30 This personal inquiry into the psychology of suicide brings compassion confessional honesty and academic perception to a woefully misunderstood subject Kirkus Reviews Despite his success as a psychologist and writer Jesse Bering spent most of his thirties believing he would probably kill himself At times the impulse to take his own life felt all but inescapable When his suicidal thoughts began to fade he felt relieved but also curious He wondered where they came from and if they would return whether other animals experienced the same impulse or if it was a uniquely human evolutionary development In Suicidal Bering answers all these questions and more Drawing on personal stories scientific studies and remarkable cross species comparisons Bering explores the science and psychology of suicide Revealing its cognitive secrets and the subtle tricks our minds can play on us Bering helps readers analyze their own doomsday thoughts while gaining broad insight into the subject Authoritative accessible personal and profound Suicidal will change the way you think about this most vexing of human problems

The Animal Catalyst Patricia MacCormack, 2014-06-19 The Animal Catalyst deals with the question of what is an animal and also in some instances what is a human It pushes critical animal studies in important new directions it re examines basic assumptions suggests new paradigms for how we can live and function ecologically in a world that is not simply ours It argues that it is not enough to recognise the ethical demands placed upon us by our encounters with animals or to critique our often murderous treatment of them this simply reinforces human exceptionalism Featuring contributions from leading academics lawyers artists and activists the book examines key issues such as How compassion for animals reinforces ideas of what distinguishes human beings from other animals How speciesism and human centrality are built into the legal system How individualist subjectivity works in relation to animals who may not think of themselves in the same way How any consideration of animal others must involve a radical deconstruction of our very notion of the human How art philosophy and literature can both avoid speciesism and deliver the human from subjectivity This volume is a unique project which stands at the cutting edge of both animal rights philosophies and posthuman artistic abstract philosophies of identity It will be of great interest to undergraduates and researchers in philosophy ethics particularly continental philosophy critical theory and cultural studies

The Wild Animal Society Theo Von Cezar, 2015-05-28 From the African Savannah to the Great Plains the animals have had enough of Man s greed corruption and immorality Enough is enough Under the leadership of Nietzsche an enlightened lion the animal philosophers of the world have a plan that might just correct the injustices of the past but will all the humans meekly agree to the new order What would happen if the world's animals could think like us and talk like us What if they could read and reason And what if they then decided that they have had enough suffering at our hands Enough of the human propensity for greed and corruption In this fantastical fable we follow Nietzsche the lion as he rallies all the animals of the world into one final bid for saving the world from us

The Political Animal Chris Danta, Dimitris Vardoulakis, 2010-09-01 In the variegated history of the philosophical definitions of man one has survived since it has been given the status of the self evident The definition in question comes from Aristotle's Politics the human is a political animal 1253a3 There is something indisputable about this characterization humans are indeed the most social of animals they are denizens of the polis with its institutions and laws its rulers judges and generals It would be difficult to contend that any other animal has recourse to the political as much as the human Aristotle's Politics need not be surrendered to the strictures of humanism It remains amenable to the new schema for the political animal that we are sketching here Each article collected in this issue responds in its own way and by establishing its own protocols to the exigency of the animal as it was formulated in Aristotle s Politics Each article is an act of response a moment of interruption Thinking Italian Animals D.
