I. Function Introduction

1. 433FM Signal to Switch-out Adapter serves to convert wireless alarm signals emitted by the solar-powered wireless active infrared detector into wired digital alarm output signals for use by the third party host to ensure the third party host is compatible with the solar-powered wireless active infrared detector produced by our company.
2. 433FM Signal to Switch-out Adapter is not compatible with any other wireless alarms available in the market, but 433MHz solar-powered wireless active infrared detector produced by our company.
3. 433FM Signal to Switch-out Adapter has no built-in power supply, so the third party host should be equipped with a stable 12V-14V power supply to be properly connected to the adapter.
4. 433FM Signal to Switch-out Adapter has 8 defense zones, that is, 8 digital alarm outputs. Each defense zone should learn the codes of maximum 6 solar-powered wireless active infrared detectors, and the alarm output is set OFF by default. It should be noted that the resistors are connected in series when the alarm adapter is linked to the third-party host.
