

Parts of a Persuasive Letter

Date

October 23, 2014

Greeting

Dear Jaime,

Introduction

I am writing to you because I think that you should try hula hooping. First of all, I think that you would like hula hooping because it is tricky. You like to practice doing the monkey bars so you get better at it. I think you would like to learn how to keep the hula hoop up for a long time. Also, I think you would like hula hooping because you can do it with friends. You can do it with Sam and me at recess.

Reasons

Conclusion

These are the reasons why I think you should hula hoop. Please come try it!

Closing

Your friend,
Christine

Our School Can Save Trees, Stop Junk Food Ads for Kids, Please Let Me Have a Dog! Cynthia Swain, 2009 Do you have a cause worth fighting for Then make your opinions known by writing letters to the people who can do something to help How Explanatory and Persuasive Letter Writing National Assessment of Educational Progress (Project), 1976

Writing in Elementary School Social Studies Barry K. Beyer, Robert Gilstrap, 1982 This book is designed to provide elementary school teachers with information suggestions and models for using writing in the social studies from early primary to middle grades There are four major chapters to the book Chapter I is titled Research on the Teaching of Writing The articles in this first section move from a survey of research in writing to a survey of classroom practice in the use of writing in elementary school social studies and finally to a specific classroom study that integrates the two areas and presents specific implications for the study and teaching of writing Chapter II is titled Developing Readiness in Writing The first two articles stress two important aspects of a classroom environment that nurtures and supports student writing The remaining five articles describe techniques such as interviewing exploring the past and brainstorming that teachers can use to initiate writing The title of Chapter III which contains seven articles is Using Writing to Learn Social Studies Content The articles describe ways in which writing can be used to help students learn social studies information or develop social studies generalizations Another describes how writing can be used to conduct simulated field trips in the social studies classroom The title of Chapter IV is Combining Writing with Social Studies Discussed are three essential supports for a successful program a detailed curriculum guide inservice teacher training and cooperative teacher administrator assessment procedures The book also cites related resources in the ERIC system Author RM Take Me to Your Readers Larry Swartz, 2017-09-22 This thoughtful book is rooted in the belief that teachers can lead their students to develop their reading tastes and grow in their love of reading at the same time as supporting and stretching students in their meaning making experiences This practical resource highlights more than 50 instructional strategies that invite students to work inside and outside a book through reading writing talk and arts experiences It highlights the work of guest voices that include classroom teachers occasional teachers special education teachers and librarians who share their best literacy practices Take Me to Your Readers uses 5 essential areas to structure classroom experiences through children s literature Motivation Theme Connections Genre Connections Cross Curricular Connections and Response Extensive booklists teaching tips a wide range of activities and reproducible pages provide practical support Ultimately this book is designed to take teachers to their readers and start them on a lifelong journey through great books Writing in Context(s) Triantafillia Kostouli, 2006-01-20 The premise that writing is a socially situated act of interaction between readers and writers is well established This volume first corroborates this premise by citing pertinent evidence through the analysis of written texts and interactive writing contexts and from educational settings across different cultures from which we have scant evidence Secondly all chapters though addressing the social nature of writing propose a variety of perspectives making the volume multidisciplinary in nature Finally this volume accounts for the diversity of the research perspectives each chapter proposes by situating the plurality of terminological issues and methodologies into a more integrative framework Thus a coherent overall framework is created within which different research strands i e the sociocognitive sociolinguistic research composition work genre analysis and pedagogical practices developed on L1 and L2 writing can be situated and acquire meaning This volume will be of particular interest to researchers in the areas of language and literacy education in L1 and L2 applied linguists interested in school and academic contexts of writing teacher educators and graduate students working in the fields of L1 and L2 writing
