Military Strategy and Tactics Reiner Huber,2013-11-11 This volume brings forth a set of selected papers from the Conference on Modeling Land Sattle Systems for Military Planning Sponsored by the Special Programme Panel on Systems Science of the NATO Science Committee the conference took place in Ottobrunn Germany at the War Gaming Centre of Industrienanlagen Betriebsgesellschaft The idea to organize a conference on land battle systemmodels was first suggested to me in 1972 by Andreas Mortensen then a member of the Norwegian Defence Research Establishment and presently at the SHAPE Technical Centre when we discussed the apparent inconsistencies of various evaluations of force capability within NATO Frequently decision makers are confronted by contradictory results of different studies addressing essentially the same problem leaving them with the impression that the tools of systems analysis and operations research may not be very objective guides However experienced systems researchers know that a detailed comparison of models their assumptions and inputs would generally show that results are not really contradictory But not only seem the decision processes in large national and international organizations to be such that a comparison can hardly ever be accomplished also the documentation available is rarely sufficient to really comprehend the differences in results For these reasons we felt that an effort to review the state of the art of modeling in support of force capability assessments was overdue
