Distribution of Resources in the Nigerian Health Care System Anthony Okechukwu Nnadi, 2020-01-09 This publication representing the doctoral dissertation of Rev Fr Anthony Okechukwu Nnadi examines the healthcare system in Nigeria in the light of the Catholic social teaching. He supports that the allocation of health care resources is not only a matter of organization but is also an ethical problem. The debacles and failure of the Nigerian health system result from many factors including lack of will to implement the right policies on the ground, corruption among the leaders, lack of justice, lack of respect for the dignity of each human person, mismanagement and insufficient consideration and application of ethical principles in the administration of common good, especially in the distribution of health care and social resources. For the distribution of health care resources, this doctoral dissertation suggests that priority be given to the basic health care needs of Nigerian citizens, especially those who have no means of satisfying these needs themselves. In this context, the research affirms that great attention needs to be paid to ensuring that the principle of human dignity is completely respected in each and every policy in this important area. This doctoral thesis is an ethical vision of social reality in Nigeria. It proposes the person-centred Catholic principles as a possible way forward in the distribution of health care resources in Nigeria. It does not imply substituting the economic, political and health care experts in offering technical solutions in their areas of competence. The author is convinced that healthcare allocation is also an ethical issue that needs to be governed by ethical principles. The key factors for choosing this theme are based on the author's knowledge of the deplorable condition of the health care system in Nigeria and his desire to save human lives. Rev Fr Anthony Okechukwu Nnadi believes that we are all stewards of human life. This implies a moral obligation to protect the dignity of the human person, which is inseparable from protecting human life.

Evaluation of PEPFAR Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Institute of Medicine, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Board on Global Health, Committee on the Outcome and Impact Evaluation of Global HIV/AIDS Programs Implemented Under the Lantos-Hyde Act of 2008, 2013-06-27. The U.S. government supports programs to combat global HIV/AIDS through an initiative that is known as the President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR). This initiative was originally authorized in the U.S. Leadership Against HIV/AIDS, Tuberculosis, and Malaria Act of 2003 and focused on an emergency response to the HIV/AIDS pandemic to deliver lifesaving care and treatment in low and middle income countries (LMICs) with the highest burdens of disease. It was subsequently reauthorized in the Tom Lantos and Henry J. Hyde U.S. Global Leadership Against HIV/AIDS, Tuberculosis, and Malaria Reauthorization Act of 2008. The Lantos-Hyde Act Evaluation of PEPFAR makes recommendations for improving the U.S. government's bilateral programs as part of the U.S. response to global HIV/AIDS. The overall aim of this evaluation is a forward-looking approach to track and anticipate the evolution of the U S response to global HIV to be positioned to inform the ability of the U S government to address key issues under consideration at the time of the report release Africa and Global Health Governance Amy S. Patterson, 2018-03 A timely inquiry into how domestic politics and global health governance interact in Africa Global health campaigns development aid programs and disaster relief groups have been criticized for falling into colonialist patterns running roughshod over the local structure and authority of the countries in which they work Far from powerless however African states play complex roles in health policy design and implementation In Africa and Global Health Governance Amy S Patterson focuses on AIDS the 2014 2015 Ebola outbreak and noncommunicable diseases to demonstrate why and how African states accept challenge or remain ambivalent toward global health policies structures and norms Employing in depth analysis of media reports and global health data Patterson also relies on interviews and focus group discussions to give voice to the various agents operating within African health care systems including donor representatives state officials NGOs community based groups health activists and patients Showing the variety within broader patterns this clearly written book demonstrates that Africa s role in global health governance is dynamic and not without agency Patterson shows how for example African leaders engage with international groups attempting to maintain their own leadership while securing the aid their people need Her findings will benefit health and development practitioners scholars and students of global health governance and African politics

The Palgrave Handbook of Peacebuilding in Africa Tony Karbo, Kudrat Virk, 2018-01-30 This handbook offers a critical assessment of the African agenda for conflict prevention peacemaking peacekeeping and peacebuilding the challenges and opportunities facing Africa s regional organisations in their efforts towards building sustainable peace on the continent and the role of external actors including the United Nations Britain France and South Asian troop contributing countries In so doing it revisits the late Ali Mazrui s concept of Pax Africana calling on Africans to take responsibility for peace and security on their own continent The creation of the African Union in 2002 was an important step towards realising this ambition and has led to the development of a new continental architecture for more robust conflict management But as the volume s authors show the quest for Pax Africana faces challenges Combining thematic analyses and case studies this book will be of interest to both scholars and policymakers working on peace security and governance issues in Africa

Tanzania Operational Plan Report Fy 2013 United States United States Department of State,2014-11-12 Since 2004 PEPFAR Tanzania has been working closely with the United Republic of Tanzania and other donors including the Global Fund to Fight AIDS Tuberculosis and Malaria to respond to the HIV epidemic PEPFAR T the GFATM and the URT share a symbiotic relationship in Tanzania While PEPFAR T predominantly focuses on services and system strengthening GFATM is responsible for commodity procurement and some systems strengthening and the URT provides policy framework infrastructure systems and personnel Deficits in resources governance and health systems continue to complicate Tanzania s ability to adequately respond to HIV AIDS As a result Tanzania s health programs especially for HIV are highly dependent upon donor funding Foreign funds account for 97% of the Mainland s HIV AIDS response of which 90% come from the combined efforts of PEPFAR T 74% and the GFATM 16% In addition the country grapples with weak health infrastructure shortages of health and social workers high levels of stigma cumbersome government procurement systems weak management and strategic planning and poor accountability According to the 2011 UNAIDS Report on the Global AIDS Epidemic adult HIV prevalence in the country is estimated at 5.8% and an estimated 1.6 million Tanzanians are living with HIV of which 1.3 million are OVC An estimated 84,000 AIDS related deaths occur in Tanzanian each year According to the 2007-08 Tanzania HIV and AIDS and Malaria Indicator Survey the impact of the epidemic varies significantly by region with the highest prevalence region Iringa estimated at 15.7% and the lowest estimated Zanzibar at 0.6% and with a significant difference in the prevalence between urban 9% and rural 5% areas. The data also reveal significant sex differentials in HIV prevalence with male prevalence at 5% and female prevalence at 7%. A new THMIS was conducted in 2011-2012 and is due to be released in late March 2013. Despite a generalized epidemic, key populations play a critical role in HIV transmission dynamics. Data indicate that injection drug use, specifically heroin use, is on the rise in urban Tanzania and Zanzibar. Studies carried out in Dar es Salaam indicate that the HIV prevalence is 42% among people who inject drugs in 2007 and 31.4% among sex workers in 2010, while unpublished data for men who have sex with men in Dar es Salaam indicates prevalence over 30% in 2012. PEPFAR support to Tanzania has enabled a dramatic increase in the number of adults and children accessing ART, with 364,000 individuals receiving treatment in FY2012. Also during FY2012, a total of 3,370,000 individuals received HIV testing and counseling; 1,100,000 pregnant women were tested and counseled through PMTCT services; 526,000 OVC received support; and 152,000 VMMC took place.

Uganda Operational Plan Report FY 2013 United States Department of State, 2014-11-12. In September 2012, the Ministry of Health (MOH) released the results of the Uganda AIDS Indicator Survey (UAIS) 2011, which indicated that Uganda continues to experience a severe HIV epidemic. HIV prevalence in the general population 15 to 59 years old is estimated to be 7.3% in 2011, compared to 6.4% in 2004. HIV prevalence is higher among women (8.3%) than among men (6.1%). Compared to the 2004 UAIS survey, the magnitude of change in HIV prevalence varied across regions. Central, Western, Southwestern, and Northern regions remain the worst affected, while modest declines in prevalence were recorded in the East Central and Mid Eastern regions. Of particular concern is the rise in HIV prevalence among young people aged 15-24 years generally and in all age groups specifically in the West Nile and North East regions that previously were least affected. UNAIDS projects the number of new annual infections at 150,000 in 2011, an increase from 120,000 in 2004. AIDS mortality is estimated at 62,000 deaths in 2011, the lowest estimate in a long decline since 2000, reflecting the significant expansion of ART. The UNAIDS most recent World AIDS Day Report warned of increasing unprotected sex, both sexes, and multiple partners among women. The estimated number of people infected with HIV has risen to 1.39 million, 55% of whom are female, and 14% are children under the age of 15 years. HIV is predominantly heterosexually transmitted, accounting for 75-80% of new infections. However, population subgroups show that the most affected and the risk factors and drivers of HIV infections have evolved in recent years. Studies show an HIV prevalence of 1.2% in university students, 15.40% in fishing communities, 37% among sex workers, 18% in the partners of sex workers, and 13% in the group of men with a history of having sex with men. Strikingly, 35% of new infections occur amongst self-reported monogamous individuals, which raises concerns regarding rising multiple concurrent partnerships. The remaining transmissions are largely due to mother-to-child HIV transmission. In response to the 2011 UAIS results, PEPFAR revised its programmatic and technical approaches and targets to better respond to Uganda's escalating epidemic. The 2013 COP is based on scientific evidence prioritized proven interventions resources matched effectively across subpopulations and efforts directed towards sources of new infections to assist the HIV AIDS epidemic response in Uganda The 2013 COP is the product of a consultative process that involved the GOU PEPFAR implementing partners IP and bilateral and multilateral donors
