Coerced Erin Hatton,2020-03-24 What do prisoner laborers graduate students welfare workers and college athletes have in common According to sociologist Erin Hatton they are all part of a growing workforce of coerced laborers Coerced explores this world of coerced labor through an unexpected and compelling comparison of these four groups of workers for whom a different definition of employment reigns supreme one where workplace protections do not apply and employers wield expansive punitive power far beyond the ability to hire and fire Because such arrangements are common across the economy Hatton argues that coercion as well as precarity is a defining feature of work in America today Theoretically forceful yet vivid and gripping to read Coerced compels the reader to reevaluate contemporary dynamics of work pushing beyond concepts like career and gig work Through this bold analysis Hatton offers a trenchant window into this world of work from the perspective of those who toil within it and who are developing the tools needed to push back against it

Tackling the Everyday Tracie Canada,2025-02-25 A Black feminist take on exploitation and care in America s favorite game Big time college football promises prestige drama media attention and money Yet most athletes in this unpaid amateur system encounter a different reality facing dangerous injuries few pro career opportunities a free but devalued college education and future financial instability In one of the first ethnographies about Black college football players anthropologist Tracie Canada reveals the ways young athletes strategically resist the exploitative systems that structure their everyday lives Tackling the Everyday shows how college football particularly harms the young Black men who are overrepresented on gridirons across the country Although coaches and universities constantly invoke the misleading football family narrative this book describes how a brotherhood among Black players operates alongside their caring mothers who support them on and off the field With a Black feminist approach one that highlights often overlooked voices Canada exposes how race gender kinship and care shape the lives of the young athletes who shoulder America s favorite game Special Admission Kirsten Hextrum, 2021-08-13 Honorable Mention 2022 Society of Professors of Education Outstanding Book Award Special Admission contradicts the national belief that college sports provide upward mobility opportunities Kirsten Hextrum documents how white middle class youth become overrepresented on college teams Her institutional ethnography of one elite athletic and academic institution includes over 100 hours of interviews with college rowers and track field athletes She charts the historic and contemporary relationships between colleges athletics and white middle class communities that ensure white suburban youth are advantaged in special athletic admissions Suburban youth start ahead in college admissions because athletic merit the competencies desired by university recruiters requires access to vast familial communal and economic resources all of which are concentrated in their neighborhoods Their advantages increase as youth parents and coaches strategically invest in and engineer novel opportunities to maintain their race and class status Thus college sports allow white middle class athletes to accelerate their racial and economic advantages through admission to elite universities
