Nightmare in the Limbo of Halloween

With its creepy, ghostly, and ghoulish themes, Halloween is a time when the line between the real and the imaginary is blurred. It's a time when the imagination runs wild, and the night is filled with the sounds of screams and the sight of jack-o'-lanterns. But what if the line between the real and the imaginary is not so clear-cut? What if the night is filled with the sounds of screams and the sight of jack-o'-lanterns, but the screams are not just from the children, but from the adults? What if the night is filled with the sounds of screams and the sight of jack-o'-lanterns, but the screams are not just from the children, but from the adults?

Psychology and cinema are kindred cousins born at the same time and developing together so that each influences the other. From the mind-controlling villains that occupy early horror films and Cold War thrillers like Caligari, Mabuse and The Ipcress File to the asylums that house numberless political allegories and personal dramas in Shock Corridor, Spellbound, One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest and Girl Interrupted to the drugs, phobias and disorders that pervade so many of our favorite films including as a small sample Vertigo, Night of the Hunter, Psycho, Rainman, Fight Club, Requiem for a Dream and Batman. Begins there is no escaping either psychology in the movies or the movies in psychology. By looking at the interactions between cinema and psychology, this book offers readers clear and basic insights into some of the most fundamental reasons why film is such an important influence upon our lives today. Movies and the Modern Psyche first describes the basic concepts of psychoanalysis, experimental psychology, behavioral conditioning and hypnosis which have all played major roles in the histories of both film and psychiatry. Fatal Charms and The Mansions of Limbo Dominick Dunne, 1999-03-09 Dominick Dunne has met them all: stars and slugs, criminals and victims, the innocent and the hideously guilty, and now his two provocative collections of Vanity Fair portraits are in one irresistible volume. From posh Park Avenue duplexes to the extravagant mansions of Beverly Hills, from tasteful London town houses to the wild excesses of million-dollar European retreats, here are the movers and shakers and the people who pretend to be. Among colorful profiles and revealing glimpses of Elizabeth Taylor, Claus von Bülow, Gloria Vanderbilt and Aaron Spelling, discover who dumped an heiress the night before the wedding, to whom the best man ran off with, what happens when the ex-husband of a movie legend becomes president, why a beautiful singer fell in with the mob, and in Dunne's most personal story, how a lying murderer and a limelight-loving judge denied justice to his family after his daughter's life was brutally destroyed. Filled with pathos and wit, insight and sass, this candid, controversial volume gives you an extraordinary peek into the rarefied world of the rich, the royal, and the ruined. For Dunne is the man who knows all their secrets, and now those secrets are out.

Between Two Trailers J. Dana Trent, 2024-04-16 A powerful, unforgettable memoir about a girl who escapes her childhood as a preschool drug dealer in rural Indiana, only to find that no one can really make it out until they make peace with where their story began. Home, it turns out, is where the war is. It's also where the healing begins. Dana Trent is only a preschooler the first time she uses a razor blade to cut up weed and fill dime bags for her schizophrenic father, King. While King struggles with his unmedicated psychosis, Dana's mother, the Lady, a cold and self-absorbed woman whose personality disorders rule the home, guards large bricks of drugs from the safety of their squalid trailer. But when the Lady impulsively plucks Dana from the Midwest and moves the two of them south, their fresh start results in homelessness and bankruptcy In North Carolina Dana becomes torn between her gritty midwestern past and her newfound desire to be a polite southern girl struggling to reconcile her shame with an ache to figure out who she is and where she belongs But the past is never far behind After persevering through childhood and eventually graduating from Duke University Dana imagines that her hidden Indiana life is finally behind her only to realize that running from her upbringing has kept her from making peace with the people and places that shaped her Ultimately Dana finds that though love for family is universally complicated there is no shame in survival and for those who want it there is always a path home CHIMERAWORLD #2 Mike
