

Argument Essay: Body Paragraphs

Before you begin your body paragraphs, make sure you have chosen your claim (your opinion) and three reasons to support it. Your three reasons will then become the topic sentences of your three body paragraphs. Color code the parts of your paragraphs using the key on the left.

My Claim:

Phones should be used in class

My Three Reasons:

1. It can be so useful in the classroom than a Chromebook

Getting information can be a lot more faster

2.

3. In case you forget your chromebook.

Body Paragraph 1

- a topic sentence with your first reason
- 1 or more pieces of evidence from the text
- 2 or more sentences of thoughtful elaboration
- concluding or transition sentence
- appropriate transition phrases throughout

Chromebooks are used for everything in school, sometimes the things that we need we can't access because it's blocked. That's why people say that they should use their phones for school instead of a chromebook. Using phones instead of using our chromebook is going to be a lot better because we can access more and do it quicker. There would be a lot of times where your computer would crash or take too long to load something.

Body Paragraph 2

- a topic sentence with your second reason
- 1 or more pieces of evidence from the text
- 2 or more sentences of thoughtful elaboration
- concluding or transition sentence
- appropriate transition phrases throughout

Reading, writing an essay, or over all looking for information on chromebook can be limited but on the phone there are endless websites that can help you. Even Oxford had something to say about it. He said that phone can be very useful in school if you tell your students to download "educational learning apps".

Body Paragraph 3

- a topic sentence with your third reason
- 1 or more pieces of evidence from the text
- 2 or more sentences of thoughtful elaboration
- concluding or transition sentence
- appropriate transition phrases throughout

There are a lot of times where we forget our chromebooks and then you have to go through this process instead we can use our phones. I restate everything that I told you about that our phones can be more useful in school. People don't always forget their chromebooks but when it happens we should be able to use our phones.

Handbook of Research on Assessment Literacy and Teacher-Made Testing in the Language Classroom White, Eddy, Delaney, Thomas, 2018-11-23 The evaluation of student performance and knowledge is a critical element of an educator's job as well as an essential step in the learning process for students. The quality and effectiveness of the evaluations given by educators are impacted by their ability to create and use reliable and valuable evaluations to facilitate and communicate student learning. The Handbook of Research on Assessment Literacy and Teacher Made Testing in the Language Classroom is an essential reference source that discusses effective language assessment and educator roles in evaluation design. Featuring research on topics such as course learning outcomes, learning analytics, and teacher collaboration, this book is ideally designed for educators, administrative officials, linguists, academicians, researchers, and education students seeking coverage on an educator's role in evaluation design and analyses of evaluation methods and outcomes. Essaying the Past Jim Cullen, 2016-12-19 Part research manual, part study guide, and part introduction to the study of history, Essaying the Past guides the reader through the nuts and bolts of producing good historical prose, offering key strategies and useful tips. Includes expert advice on writing about history, conducting good research, and learning how to think analytically. Covers important topics such as framing questions, developing a strong introduction and topic sentences, choosing good evidence, and the crucial role of revision. Six appendices cover the major issues facing students today, such as the dangers of plagiarism and the role of the internet. Argumentative Writing in a Second Language Alan R. Hirvela, Diane Belcher, 2021-12-13 Argumentative Writing in a Second Language is a collection on teaching argumentative writing, offering multiple vantage points drawn from the contributors' own teaching and research experiences. The value of learning how to compose argumentative texts cannot be overstated, and yet very little attention has been allocated to the equally important topic of how argumentation is or can be taught in the L2 context. Thus, this volume shifts attention to teachers and argumentative writing instruction, especially within increasingly common multimodal and digital literacy settings. While doing so, it provides a comprehensive, wide-ranging view of the L2 argumentative writing landscape within an instructional lens. Part I of the volume is topic-oriented and focuses on explorations of important issues and perspectives, while Part II features several chapters reporting classroom-based studies of a variety of instructional approaches that expand our understanding of how argumentative writing can be taught. The book will be of value to pre-service and in-service teachers in varying instructional contexts, as well as teacher educators and L2 writing scholars, researchers.
