Plundering Egypt G. P. Wagenfuhr, 2016-03-30 Christian engagement with economics tends to baptize preexisting sociopolitical perspectives thereby assuming a predetermined metaphysical narrative What happens when the story of the development of economics told from an anthropological and sociological perspective is juxtaposed with a biblical theology that focuses primarily on relationships Wagenfuhr tests a theological method grounded in three kinds of relationships Creator creature estrangement and Reconciler reconciled by comparing these with a fourth relationship the economic He argues that economic relationships and the worlds they create throughout history are the fruit of relationships estranged from God Much theology has committed itself to a metaphysic rooted in the reality of economics and has told a metaphysical story that tends to legitimize current sociopolitical realities Wagenfuhr argues that reconciliation with God is entirely subversive to economic relationships No economic relationship or system is established or justified by God but neither does he reject them Instead the love of God in Christ speaks the economic language of a people with a critical edge leading to loving subversion of any and all economic relationships This book argues for a robust theology that offers the post Christendom church a renewed sense of the total scale of God s mission of reconciliation
