Design and Agency John Potvin, Marie-Ève Marchand, 2020-05-14 Design and Agency brings together leading international design scholars and practitioners to address the concept of agency in relation to objects organisations and people The authors set out to expand the scope of design history and practice avoiding the heroic narratives of a typical modernist approach They consider both how the agents of design construct and express their identities and subjectivities through practice while also investigating the distinctive contribution of design in the construction of individual identity and subjectivity Individual chapters explore notions of agency in a range of design disciplines and historical periods including the agency of women in effecting changes to the design of offices and working practices the role of Jeffrey Lindsay and Buckminster Fuller in developing the design of a geodesic dome Le Corbusier's Casa Curutchet a re consideration of the gendered historiography of the Jugendstil movement and Bruce Mau's design exhibitions Taken together the essays in Design and Agency provide a much needed response to the traditional texts which dominate design history With a broad chronological span from 1900 to the present and an equally broad understanding of the term design it expands how we view the discipline and shows how design itself can be an agent for social cultural and economic change

Investigating the Design and Implementation of Operational Safety Plans for Crisis at Higher Education

Institutions Antonio Passaro, Jr.,2022-10-25 With the rising occurrence of human caused natural and technological crises Investigating the Design and Implementation of Operational Safety Plans for Crisis at Higher Education Institutions offers guiding principles implementation factors and best practices for creating more effective operational safety plans at higher education institutions In many cases limited resources prior to a crisis may lead to inadequate planning that hampers implementation Additionally operational safety plans typically are created or revised in a reactive manner after the fact As the result of an exhaustive literature review the author determined that unlike other fields effective best practices for operational safety planning are either unknown to the institutions that need them most or institutional factors and financial constraints prevent them from implementing them in full The Increasing Relevance of Traditional Medicine Systems for the Primary Health Care Sector and General Practice: Global Research Perspectives Christian S. Kessler,Pathirage Kamal Perera,Rammanohar Puthiyedath,Anand Dhruva,2025-01-17 Traditional medical TM systems continue to have relevance in healthcare worldwide particularly in family medicine and primary care The WHO explicitly promotes traditional medicine by issuing recommendations in this field and establishing corresponding centers including the Global Center for TM in India The increasing importance of Asia Africa and South America in the global political and economic arena has made this topic even more relevant The first WHO Traditional Medicine Global Summit which took place as recently as August 2023 again impressively points out the increasing importance of traditional systems of medicine Anthropos and the Material

Penny Harvey,Christian Krohn-Hansen,Knut G. Nustad,2019-05-09 The destructive effects of modern industrial societies have shaped the planet in such profound ways that many argue for the existence of a new geological epoch called the Anthropocene. This claim brings into relief a set of challenges that have deep implications for how relations between the human, the material and the political affect contemporary social worlds. The contributors to Anthropos and the Material examine these challenges by questioning and complicating long held understandings of the divide between humans and things. They present ethnographic case studies from across the globe addressing myriad topics that range from labor economics and colonialism to technology, culture, the environment, agency and diversity. In foregrounding the importance of connecting natural and social histories, the instability and intangibility of the material and the ways in which the lively encounters between the human and the nonhuman challenge conceptions of liberal humanism, the contributors point to new understandings of the capacities of people and things to act, transform and adapt to a changing world.
