Social Disciplining and Civilising Processes in China Thomas Heberer, 2023-08-11 This book argues that a major part of the Chinese government's road map formulated in 2017 to modernise China comprehensively by 2049 is the process of social disciplining It contends that the Chinese state sees that modernisation and modernity encompass not only economic and political administrative change but are also related to the organisation of society in general and the disciplining of this society and its individuals to create people with modernised minds and behaviour and that moreover the Chinese state is aspiring to a modernity with Chinese characteristics The question of modernising by disciplining was extensively dealt with in the twentieth century by leading Western social scientists including Max Weber Norbert Elias and Michel Foucault who argued that disciplining extending from external coercion towards the internalisation of restraints is indispensable for achieving social order and thereby for civilisation but defined from a European perspective in relation to developments in Europe This book therefore not only discusses the Chinese experience of social disciplining but also by looking at a non Western society identifies universal tendencies of societal change and social disciplining and separates them from particular occurrences Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature ,1910 Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature Anna Lorraine

Guthrie,Bertha Tannehill,Neltje Marie Tannehill Shimer,1910 Health Care Transformation in Contemporary China Jiong Tu,2018-06-12 This multifaceted book examines the free market reform of the Chinese healthcare system in the 1980s and the more collectivist or socialist counter reforms that have been implemented since 2009 to remedy some of the problems introduced by marketization The book is based on an ethnographical study in a Chinese county from 2011 to 2012 which investigated local people s experience of healthcare reforms and the various ways in which they have adapted their own behavior to the constraints and opportunities introduced by these reforms It provides a vivid depiction of the morality and emotionality of people s experiences of the Chinese healthcare system and the myriad frustrations and sometimes desperation it induces not only among patients with significant health problems and their families but also healthcare practitioners caught between their desire to do right by their patients and the penalties they personally incur if they do not adhere to institutionalized cost saving measures The people s experiences within China s health sector presented reflect many similar experiences in the wider Chinese society The book is thus a valuable resource for researchers and graduate students interested in China s healthcare reforms and scholars concerned with issues of contemporary Chinese society
