

Socio-Autobiography

Since early childhood, every person is influenced by social environment and culture of her parents and family. In this case, class location and race are the main factors which have an influence on social position and opportunities of individuals. Low class location prevents people to obtain social respect and opportunities available for middle and high class citizens. In contrast, high social position of parents creates opportunities for a child to enter prestigious school and receive good high education. Critics prove that there are interconnections between biography of a person, the social structure and culture of her family or social environment. Classes exist in a given society to the extent that there are significant links between these three levels of social life: if economically determined positions correlate significantly with people's lived experience and consciousness, and if both of these have a significant bearing on how they behave as consumers, workers or citizens - on how they live, the organizations they join, the parties they support, and so on. For instance, it is difficult for working class families to give good education for their children. It means that they visit pre-school courses and sections for low class families: they go to low prestigious schools in contrast to middle class children. My family traditions and values have influenced my biography and cultural values. Similar to my parents, I visited prestigious secondary school and then entered the University. My life and career goals bear resemblance with my parents' life and expectations influenced by class location and culture. It is important to note that some decades ago, schools created greater barriers for minority groups of students. This problem was typical for low class white families, but racial differences worsened and deepened this problem. These problems forced many young people to behave violently against society which resulted in civil disobedience. As a cultural element, rap music represents social movement against poverty, mass unemployment and negative experience of black youth. The main focus of rap is on wealth and crime influencing people's morals and appealing for trendy life style. Influenced by this music, as a cultural phenomenon, young people from low social classes become gangsters and criminals unable to find a job and earn for living (Birdsall, Graham, 2000). It is possible to say that my biography is influenced by social structure of the society. Following there are three 'levels' of social life which determine: economic structure and relations between individuals, individuals and society, individuals and the state. This level consists of sets of relations in the sphere of the production and exchange of goods and services. In many cases, my biography is influenced by these relations determining class location and level of income. The second level is social relations that are independent of and external to individuals' wills and that

Life Narratives and Youth Culture Kate Douglas, Anna Poletti, 2016-12-26 This book considers the largely under recognised contribution that young writers have made to life writing genres such as memoir letter writing and diaries as well as their innovative use of independent and social media The authors argue that these contributions have been historically silenced subsumed within other literary genres culturally marginalised or co opted for political ends Furthermore the book considers how life narrative is an important means for youth agency and cultural participation By engaging in private and public modes of self representation young people have contested public discourses around the representation of youth including media health and welfare and legal discourses and found means for re engaging and re appropriating self images and representations Locating their research within broader theoretical debates from childhood and youth studies youth creative practice and associated cultural implications youth citizenship and autonomy the rights of the child generations and power relationships Poletti and Douglas also position their inquiry within life narrative scholarship and wider discussions of self representation from the margins representations of conflict and trauma and theories of ethical scholarship

Autobiography and Questions of Gender

Shirley Neuman, 2015-08-14 Originally published in 1991 Addressing the ways in which the ideology of gender and its social construction determine autobiographical self representations the essays here consider several women's works in the light of the social and historical conditions which enabled their production Some examine diaries as a feminine form and ask about the ways in which thematic content such as childbirth can or cannot be represented in diaries and public discourse at different historical junctures Others show the pressures of gender roles and how they have led to new genres in which self representation is often a refraction of the representation of others With the tools of gender theory the representation of hermaphroditism masculinity and male bodies is analysed and the ways in which gender intersects with racial sexual and class ideologies is also looked at in seeing autobiography as a form of agency in self construction
