Disney's Most Notorious Film Jason Sperb,2022-02-24 The Walt Disney Company offers a vast universe of movies television shows theme parks and merchandise all carefully crafted to present an image of wholesome family entertainment Yet Disney also produced one of the most infamous Hollywood films Song of the South Using cartoon characters and live actors to retell the stories of Joel Chandler Harris SotS portrays a kindly black Uncle Remus who tells tales of Brer Rabbit Brer Fox and the Tar Baby to adoring white children Audiences and critics alike found its depiction of African Americans condescending and outdated when the film opened in 1946 but it grew in popularity and controversy with subsequent releases Although Disney has withheld the film from American audiences since the late 1980s SotS has an enthusiastic fan following and pieces of the film such as the Oscar winning Zip a Dee Doo Dah remain throughout Disney s media universe Disney s Most Notorious Film examines the racial and convergence histories of Song of the South to offer new insights into how audiences and Disney have negotiated the film s controversies over the last seven decades Jason Sperb skillfully traces the film's reception history showing how audience perceptions of SotS have reflected debates over race in the larger society He also explores why and how Disney while embargoing the film as a whole has repurposed and repackaged elements of SotS so extensively that they linger throughout American culture serving as everything from cultural metaphors to consumer products Fairy Tales : Grades One to Two : Fairy Tales are Stories Filled ...

The Children in Our Lives Jane Adan,1991-01-01 I was born at midnight That means I can see ghosts when they want to be invisible writes fourth grader David demonstrating a child's capacity for making sense of personal experience The Children in Our Lives explores this capacity as well as how adult misperceptions of children's experiences affect those children It invites dialogue between teachers parents other caregivers and the general public who value children for their own sakes Adan looks for disparities between a child's experience and the adult's interpretation of that experience In questioning middle class nurturance she focuses on connections between experience and interpretation based on dominant traditional or mainstream values She argues that force of habit as well as a preoccupation with public image predisposes adults to embrace the abstractions that distort perception Consequently children are impaired as adults are in their ability to generate communities that are grounded in a creative concern for all human beings The Gospel according to Disney
