It can be a social problem that is affecting your community and/or it could be a social problem that is affecting society on a much larger scale. Please make sure to use 3 outside scholarly sources besides the book (if you are going to use the book)!

Please answer these questions within the paper:

- 2) Using the three main sociological perspectives to explain how each would view this social problem AND what solutions would they propose to combat this social problem?
- 3) Would you use micro and/or macro analysis to investigate this social problem? Why would choose one over the other or why would you choose both?
- 4) How prevalent was this social problem 20 years ago?
- 5) Imagine you are a sociologist who has just been given a grant to investigate this social problem. How would you go about conducting a research study for this particular issue? What research methods would you utilize and why?
