The Right to Vote Alexander Keyssar, 2009-06-30 A distinguished historian traces the history of American suffrage from an ethnic gender religious and age perspective and documents the expansion and contraction of American democracy through the years arguing that the primary impetus for promoting voting rights has been war and that the primary factors for delaying such rights have been class tension and conflict Reprint The Civil Sphere Jeffrey C. Alexander, 2008-09-08 What binds societies together and how can these social orders be structured in a fair way Jeffrey C Alexander's masterful work The Civil Sphere addresses this central paradox of modern life Feelings for others the solidarity that is ignored or underplayed by theories of power or self interest are at the heart of this novel inquiry into the meeting place between normative theories of what we think we should do and empirical studies of who we actually are Solidarity Alexander demonstrates creates inclusive and exclusive social structures and shows how they can be repaired It is not perfect it is not absolute and the horrors which occur in its lapses have been seen all too frequently in the forms of discrimination genocide and war Despite its worldly flaws and contradictions however solidarity and the project of civil society remain our best hope the antidote to every divisive institution every unfair distribution every abusive and dominating hierarchy This grand sweeping statement and rigorous empirical investigation is a major contribution to our thinking about the real but ideal world in which we all reside How Offenders Transform Their Lives Bonita Veysey, Johnna Christian, Damian J. Martinez, 2013-01-11 This book presents a series of studies that investigate individual identity transformation from offender status to pro social non offending roles highlighting the perspectives of the men and women who are current or were formerly incarcerated How Offenders Transform Their Lives Johnna Christian, Bonita M. Veysey, Damian J. Martinez, 2009 At a time when the scale of imprisonment in the United States has reached a historic high researchers estimate that more than 600 000 individuals a year are released from prison to return to their home communities These individuals have serious needs such as finding employment and housing reuniting with family members and obtaining healthcare and treatment for alcohol and substance abuse problems Similar patterns are emerging in the UK Europe and elsewhere in the world where rates of imprisonment continue to rise While research in this area has stressed these aspects of the transition from prison a less explored area of research considers the role of internal identity shifts from that of an offender to one of citizen and how this creates the conditions for desistance from criminal behaviour both within the confines of a correctional facility and in the reentry process This book presents a series of studies mostly qualitative that investigate individual identity transformation from offender status to pro social non offending roles Moreover the work in this volume highlights the perspectives of the men and women who are current or formerly incarcerated people Each piece provides an empirical analysis of the interaction between current of former prisoners and innovative pro social programs and networks which are grounded in the most current theoretical work about individual transformation and change This book will be of interest to undergraduates postgraduates researchers and lecturers in all fields within the social sciences but especially criminology and criminal justice and sociology and social work welfare as well as practitioners in social work and criminal justice sectors Philosophy Imprisoned Sarah Tyson, Joshua M. Hall, 2014-07-30 Western philosophy's relationship with prisons stretches from Plato's own incarceration to the modern era of mass incarceration. Philosophy Imprisoned: The Love of Wisdom in the Age of Mass Incarceration draws together a broad range of philosophical thinkers from both inside and outside prison walls in the United States and beyond who draw on a variety of critical perspectives including phenomenology, deconstruction, and feminist theory, and historical and contemporary figures in philosophy including Kant, Hegel, Foucault, and Angela Davis to think about prisons in this new historical era. All of these contributors have experiences within prison walls: some are or have been incarcerated, some have taught or are teaching in prisons, and all have been students of both philosophy and the carceral system. The powerful testimonials and theoretical arguments are appropriate reading not only for philosophers and prison theorists generally but also for prison reformers and abolitionists.
