Impact of Global University Ranking Systems on Developing Countries Onyancha, Omwoyo Bosire, Tella, Adeyinka, 2023-06-01 The emotive discourses on the subject of university rankings are directly linked to the effect of such rankings on the performance of universities throughout the world. It has been observed that the top ranked universities attract major financial commitments from the industry, the best students, quality researchers, and a wide range of other quality endowments such as equipment, libraries, and laboratories. It is not surprising that the ranking of universities has gained popularity and become a significant factor shaping not only the reputation of universities but also the performance of said institutions around the world, including the developing countries. Impact of Global University Ranking Systems on Developing Countries presents a collection of perspectives from scholars and other stakeholders on the impact of the global ranking systems on developing countries. The book is an additional resource for discussion and discourse as far as the global university ranking systems are concerned and opens new frontiers for further research. Covering key topics such as assessment, ethics, and academic freedom, this premier reference source is ideal for administrators, policymakers, researchers, scholars, academicians, practitioners, instructors, and students. Joke-Performance in Africa Ignatius Chukwumah, 2017-12-14 Jokes have always been part of African culture, but never have they been so blended with the strains and gains of the contemporary African world as today. Joke Performance in Africa describes and analyses the diverse aesthetics, forms, and media of jokes and their performance and shows how African jokes embody the anxieties of the time and space in which they are enacted. The book considers the pervasive phenomenon of jokes and their performance across Africa in such forms as local jests, street jokes, cartoons, mchongoano, ewhe, eje, stand up comedy, internet sex jokes, and comicast transmitted via modern technology, media such as the TV, CDs, DVDs, the internet platforms of YouTube, Facebook, and other social arenas, as well as live performances. Countries represented are Egypt, Kenya, Malawi, Morocco, Nigeria, and Zambia, covering the North, West, East, and Southern Africa. The book explores the description of the joke form from various perspectives ranging from critical discourse analysis, interviews, humour theories, psychoanalysis, the postcolony, and technauriture to the interactive dramaturgy of joke performances, irrespective of media and modes of performance. Containing insightful contributions from leading African scholars, the book acquaints readers with detailed descriptions of the diverse aesthetics of contemporary African jokes, thereby contributing to the current understanding of joke performance in Africa. It will appeal to students and scholars of African studies, popular culture, theatre performance studies, and literary studies. Creating the New African University, 2023-05-25 Creating the New African University grapples with the existence of African universities, particularly in post-independent Africa, where Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) are supposed to live up to the expectations of being adaptive in dealing with prevalent complex, dynamic, contemporary, and future challenges facing African societies. The book tackles the issue of what ought to be done for African universities to maintain a structure and identity that ensures their relevance in Africa's development through generating and transforming knowledge into actions for the common good. It engages issues within the context of how post-colonial transformative obligations have been managed in light of the prevalent epistemological and pedagogical underpinnings that form the foundations of these universities as they seek to break from the clutches of colonial legacies. This book further highlights an urgent need to do away with silos and embrace a multidisciplinary, interdisciplinary, transdisciplinary and cross-disciplinary dialogical approach towards knowledge generation. Such an approach is essential in efforts aimed at enhancing the sustainable reconfiguration of university structures and functions whilst linking knowledge produced to diverse social, economic and political facets of African societies in ways that promote and sustain competitiveness in a rapidly globalising world beset with technological advancements.

Zanzibar Was a Country Nathaniel

Mathews, 2024-04-09. Zanzibar Was a Country traces the history of a Swahili-speaking Arab diaspora from East Africa to Oman. In Oman today, whole communities in Muscat speak Swahili, have recent East African roots and practice forms of sociality associated with the urban culture of the Swahili coast. These Omani Zanzibaris offer the most significant contemporary example in the Gulf as well as in the wider Indian Ocean region of an Afro-Arab community that maintains a living connection to Africa in a diasporic setting. While they come from all over East Africa, a large number are post-revolution exiles and emigrants from Zanzibar. Their stories provide a framework for the broader transregional entanglements of decolonization in Africa and the Arabian Gulf. Using both vernacular historiography and life histories of men and women from the community, Nathaniel Mathews argues that the traumatic memories of the Zanzibar Revolution of 1964 are important to nation-building on both sides of the Indian Ocean.

Boundaries, Communities and State-Making in West Africa Paul

The Socio-Cultural, Ethnic and Historic Foundations of Kenya's Electoral Violence

Stephen Magu, 2018-02-02. Kenya's 2007 General Election results announcement precipitated the worst ethnic conflict in the country's history. 1,133 people were killed while 600,000 were internally displaced. Within 2 months, the incumbent and the challenger had agreed to a power-sharing agreement and a Government of National Unity. This book investigates the role of socio-cultural origins of ethnic conflict during electoral periods in Kenya, beginning with the multi-party era of democratization and the first multi-party elections of 1992, illustrating how ethnic groups construct their interests and cooperate or fail to do so based on shared traits. The author demonstrates that socio-cultural traditions have led to the collaboration and frequent conflict between the Kikuyu and Kalenjin that has dominated power and politics in independent Kenya The author goes on to evaluate the possibility of peace for future elections This book will be of interest to scholars of African democracy Kenyan history and politics and ethnic conflict Morality at the Margins Sarah Hillewaert,2019-11-05

This book considers the day to day lives of young Muslims on Kenya's island of Lamu who live simultaneously on the edge and in the center At the margins of the national and international economy and of Western notions of modernity Lamu's inhabitants nevertheless find themselves the focus of campaigns against Islamic radicalization and of Western touristic imaginations of the untouched and secluded What does it mean to be young modern and Muslim here How are these denominators imagined and enacted in daily encounters Documenting the everyday lives of Lamu youth this ethnography explores how young people negotiate cultural religious political and economic expectations through nuanced deployments of language dress and bodily comportment Hillewaert shows how seemingly mundane practices how young people greet others how they walk dress and talk can become tactics in the negotiation of moral personhood Morality at the Margins traces the shifting meanings and potential ambiguities of such everyday signs and the dangers of their misconstrual By examining the uncertainties that underwrite projects of self fashioning the book highlights how shifting and scalable discourses of tradition modernity secularization nationalism and religious piety inform changing notions of moral subjectivity In elaborating everyday practices of Islamic pluralism the book shows the ways in which Muslim societies critically engage with change while sustaining a sense of integrity and morality Quarterly Report for the Period ... of the 2007 post electoral violence positively or negatively affect debates and voting How would politicians electoral bodies such as the IEBC the Kenyan civil society and the international community weigh in on the elections More generally would the 2013 elections bear witness to the building up of an electoral culture in Kenya characterized by free and fair elections or would it show that voting is still weakened by political malpractices partisan opinions and emotional reactions Would Kenyas past be inescapable or would it prepare the scene for a new political order Kenyas Past as Prologue adopts a multidisciplinary perspective mainly built upon field based ethnography and a selection of case studies to answer these questions Under the leadership of the French Institute for Research in Africa Institut francais de recherche en Afrique IFRA political scientists historians and anthropologists explore various aspects of the electoral process to contribute in depth analyses of the last elections They highlight the structural factors underlying election and voting in Kenya including the political system culture and political transition They also interrogate the short term trends and issues that influence the new political order The book provides insight into specific case studies situations and contexts thus bringing nuances and diversity into focus to better assess Kenyas evolving electoral democracy

Conflictology Francis Onditi, 2020-05-28 Over the past three decades scholars students and policy makers studying and engaged in conflict resolution have veered between conflict management and resolution However the changing nature of conflict which is taking the form of radicalization and extremism are deeply rooted in individual s ideology personalities and genes hence rendering the conventional macro level power balance analytics obsolete The psychology and human genetics are at the center of this evolution This shift in conflict trends and methods of warfare in Africa and the world over demands that we search for alternative approaches mechanisms and innovative response It is against this background that this new book initiates a fundamental debate on how interdisciplinary adventure could increase the understanding of man kind and the socio biological systems surrounding man hence the emphasis on the discipline of Conflictology to embody scientific approaches methods and prescription to conflict resolution For instance does individual s gene influence human behaviours such as hate If so can this be corrected through gene transposition If human relations should be anchored on peace what are these genetic and behavioural factors that create hate and violence How then should such a gene or neurobiological system be altered in order to prevent extremism and radicalization
