Automakers in the United States and Canada A.J. Jacobs,2015-12-16 Over the past forty years state provincial and local governments in the United States and Canada have provided foreign automakers with approximately 4 80 billion in incentives in order to lure light vehicles assembly plants to their areas This has included tax abatements infrastructure construction land giveaways job training programs and other subsidies As of early 2015 ten foreign vehicle makers operated 20 light vehicles in developed North America Despite the fact that all ten of these automakers have pursued a similar pattern first exporting vehicles into the United States and Canada before launching vehicle plants in developed North America each has followed its own specific historical development path and has created its own unique growth trajectory This book provides a unique historical and qualitative review of these ten vehicle makers from their early beginnings to their export entry into the United States and or Canada through early 2015 In addition it chronicles the histories of more than a dozen former automakers and potential future foreign light motor vehicle assembly plants in the United States and Canada This includes the first foreign automaker to build its cars in the United States De Dion Bouton of France in July 1900 the early 20th Century endeavors of Fiat Mercedes and Rolls Royce and the present day hopes of Chinese and Indian automakers In the process the text also provides an assessment of the top competing states and sites for any future plants the possible incentives packages governments may offer to attract such facilities and an estimated incentive value for each automaker Overall the goal of this book is to expand the knowledge of policymakers at all tiers of government in the United States and Canada and to help them take a more holistic look at the pros and cons of attracting Automobile Manufacturing FDI It is hoped that this will enable them to make more informed decisions when pursuing a new foreign motor vehicle assembly plant Its findings should also prove informative to urban and regional planning political science sociology economics labor and international development scholars and students in North America and worldwide      Autocar & Motor ,1992-07

Ayoub,2023-01-20 After a major disaster when investigators are piecing together the story of what happened a striking fact often emerges before disaster struck some people in the organization involved were aware of dangerous conditions that had the potential to escalate to a critical level But for a variety of reasons this crucial information did not reach decision makers So the organization moved ever closer to catastrophe effectively unaware of the possible threat despite the fact that some of its employees could see it coming What is the problem with communication about risk in an organization and why does this problem exist What stops people in organizations or project teams from freely reporting and discussing critical risks This book seeks to answer these questions starting from a deep analysis of 20 disasters where the concealment of risks played a major part These case studies are drawn from around the world and span a range of industries civil nuclear power coal oil and gas production hydropower energy metals and mining space exploration transport finance retail manufacturing and even the response of governments to wars famines and epidemics Together case studies give an insight into why people hesitate to report risks and even when they do why their superiors often prefer to ignore the news The book reviews existing research on the challenges of voice and silence in organizations This helps to explain more generally why people dread passing on bad news to others and why in the workplace they prefer to keep quiet about unpleasant facts or potential risks when they are talking to superiors and colleagues The discussion section of the book includes important examples of concealment within the Chinese state hierarchy as well as by leading epidemiologists and governments in the West during the novel coronavirus outbreak in Wuhan in 2019 2020 The full picture of the very early stage of the COVID 19 pandemic remains unclear and further research is obviously needed to better understand what motivated some municipal provincial and national officials in China as well as Western counterparts to obfuscate facts in their internal communications about many issues associated with the outbreak
