

1. Which illustration below represents
 - a. solute particles in a solid state in water?
 - b. solute particles in an aqueous state?

2. What variables are controlled in all five beakers of Model 1?

Same amount of solvent(water), same temperature, same solute, stirred for 2 hours

3. Count the particles present in each beaker of Model 1. Fill in the table to show the number of dissolved solute particles and the number of solid solute particles.

Refer to table.

4. Consider the beakers in Model 1.
 - a. Which beakers represent unsaturated solutions?

A & B

- b. Which beakers represent saturated solutions?

C, D & E

5. Beakers A–E in Model 1 are depicted as representing five different or separate solutions. They could also be considered as five “snapshots” of the same beaker over time. In other words, if additional measured quantities of solute were stirred into beaker A in small increments over time, then beakers B–E would result.

- a. When a small amount of additional solute is added to an unsaturated solution, what happens to the number of dissolved particles? Provide specific evidence from Model 1 to support your answer.

The particles dissolve. If we look at beaker A and we add more solute it becomes like beaker B which has more particles dissolved.

- b. When a small amount of additional solute is added to a saturated solution, what happens to the number of dissolved particles? Provide specific evidence from Model 1 to support your answer.

The particles settle out to the bottom, this is like going from beaker C to D.

- c. Predict what would happen if a small amount of additional solute were stirred into beaker E in Model 1.

Nothing would happen, more solute would settle to the bottom.

6. Have each person in your group provide an example of the word “saturated” as it is used in an everyday context. Summarize the meaning of the word in the space below.

Some examples: a soaked sponge, soil after a heavy rain, adding sugar to iced tea

Definition: something that has the maximum amount of a substance in it.

Science Inquiry, Argument and Language, 2019-02-18 Science Inquiry

Argument and Language describes research that has focused on addressing the issue of embedding language practices within science inquiry through the use of the Science Writing Heuristic approach. In recent years much attention has been given to two areas of science education: scientific argumentation and science literacy. The research into scientific argument has adopted different orientations, with some focusing on science argument as separate to normal teaching practices that is teaching students about science argument prior to using it in the classroom context, while others have focused on embedding science argument as a critical component of the inquiry process. The current emphasis on science literacy has emerged because of greater understanding of the role of language in doing and reporting on science. Science is not viewed as being separate from language and thus there is emerging research emphasis on how best to improve science teaching and learning through a language perspective. Again the research orientations are parallel to the research on scientific argumentation in that the focus is generally between instruction separate to practice as opposed to embedding language practices within the science classroom context.
