Pwani University Date For 2015 Academic Year:

Reimagining Indian Ocean Worlds Smriti Srinivas, Bettina Ng'weno, Neelima Jeychandran, 2020-06-11 This book breaks new ground by bringing together multidisciplinary approaches to examine contemporary Indian Ocean worlds. It reconfigures the Indian Ocean as a space for conceptual and theoretical relationality based on social science and humanities scholarship, thus moving away from an area-based and geographical approach to Indian Ocean studies. Contributors from a variety of disciplines focus on keywords such as relationality, space, place, quotidian practices, and new networks of memory and maps to offer original insights to reimagine the Indian Ocean. While the volume as a whole considers older histories, mobilities, and relationships between places in Indian Ocean worlds, it is centrally concerned with new connectivities and layered mappings forged in the lived experiences of individuals and communities today. The chapters are steeped in ethnographic, multi-modal, and other humanities methodologies that examine different sources besides historical archives and textual materials, including everyday life, cities, museums, performances, the built environment, media, personal narratives, food, medical practices, or scientific explorations. An important contribution to several fields, this book will be of interest to academics of Indian Ocean studies, Afro-Asian linkages, inter-Asian exchanges, Afro-Arab crossroads, Asian studies, African studies, Anthropology, History, Geography, and International Relations.

Global Land Use Intensity Change and Its Impact on Food Security Xueru Zhang, Wei Song, Jinmei Lu, Basanta Paudel, Q. Yuan, 2025-09-18 Food security is an important guarantee for world peace and development and has a bearing on the sustainable development and future destiny of humankind. The 2023 State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World report released by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) shows that between 691 and 783 million people worldwide were hungry in 2022. Although the increase in the number of hungry people in the world has slowed down, there are still many regions of the world that are sinking deeper into the food crisis. If left unchecked, the world will not be on track to meet the Sustainable Development Goal of eradicating hunger by 2030. Food security continues to be a global challenge. Food security is based on the food system, and when the food system is under stress, the level of food security is reduced. This stress comes from a variety of factors, including land use change. Land use change and its impacts have become a hotspot and frontier of global change research. With the development of human society, the structure, depth, and intensity of land use are constantly changing, which directly affects the issue of food security. There is a close relationship between regional food security and land use change. This Research Topic focuses on land use intensity change and its implications for food security.

Kwale Kenya. Ministry of State for Planning, National Development, and Vision 2030,2009 Gone to Ground Emily Brownell,2020-03-10 Gone to Ground is an investigation into the material and political forces that transformed the cityscape of Dar es Salaam Tanzania in the 1970s and early 1980s It is both the story of a particular city and the history of a global moment of massive urban transformation from the perspective of those at the center of this shift Built around an archive of newspapers oral history interviews planning documents and a broad compendium of development reports Emily Brownell writes about how urbanites navigated the state s anti urban planning policies along with the city s fracturing infrastructures and profound shortages of staple goods to shape Dar s environment They did so most frequently by going to ground in the urban periphery orienting their lives to the city s outskirts where they could plant small farms find building materials produce charcoal and escape the state s policing of urban space Taking seriously as historical subject the daily hurdles of families to find housing food transportation and space in the city these quotidian concerns are drawn into conversation with broader national and transnational anxieties about the oil crisis resource shortages infrastructure and African socialism In bringing these concerns together into the same frame Gone to Ground considers how the material and political anxieties of the era were made manifest in debates about building materials imported technologies urban agriculture energy use and who defines living and laboring in the city

China's Finance in Africa Evelyn F. Wamboye, 2021-03-04 This Element provides a detailed analysis of official finances from China to Africa with special attention to the question of Africa's foreign finances policy The findings reveal that Africa has an infrastructure gap and Chinese finances are largely used to fund infrastructure projects However the majority of the funds are loans which are mortgaged on Africa's natural resources In addition Chinese firms are the ones implementing the projects and much of the raw material and labor is imported from China All these calls for Africa to institute a coherent foreign finances policy that ensures African countries fully benefit from these finances

Searching for a New Kenya Stephanie Diepeveen, 2021-05-06 Examining online and in person public discussion in Kenya this book sheds fresh light on the role of public discussion and social media in politics

Sounds of Other Shores Andrew J. Eisenberg, 2024-04-02 Sounds of Other Shores takes an ethnographic ear to the history of transoceanic stylistic appropriation in the Swahili taarab music of the Kenyan coast Swahili taarab a form of sung poetry that emerged as East Africa's first mass mediated popular music in the 1930s is a famously cosmopolitan form rich in audible influences from across the Indian Ocean But the variants of the genre that emerged in the Kenyan coastal city of Mombasa during the twentieth century feature particularly dramatic even flamboyant appropriations of Indian and Arab sonic gestures and styles Combining oral history interpretive ethnography and musical analysis Sounds of Other Shores explores how Swahili speaking Muslims in twentieth century Mombasa derived pleasure and meaning from acts of transoceanic musical appropriation arguing that these acts served as ways of reflecting on and mediating the complexities and contradictions associated with being Swahili in colonial and postcolonial Kenya The result is a musical anthropology of Kenyan Swahili subjectivity that reframes longstanding questions about Swahili identity while contributing to broader discussions about identity and citizenship in Africa and the Indian Ocean world

Islamic Wealth Taxation and Financing Public Health Lyla Latif, 2023-11-25 Islamic Wealth Taxation and Financing Public Health is an eye opening and thought provoking book that boldly explores new possibilities for funding public health initiatives in countries where Islam isn't the predominant religion In this case Kenya serves as the focal point Written by a Pan African Muslim woman this book is a must read for anyone curious about innovative ways to improve public health without overburdening taxpayers The author delves into the concept of zakat an Islamic wealth tax and investigates how it could be used as a source of revenue to boost public health in non Islamic states like Kenya By shedding light on the inner workings of the Kenyan legal system the book highlights the importance of understanding local power dynamics cultural and religious beliefs and political structures when examining legal issues It's a fascinating look at how different legal frameworks can come together to tackle complex challenges which brings together insights from human rights law Islamic law and constitutional law showcasing the potential for interdisciplinary collaboration in solving real world problems One of the reasons this book is so timely and important is its alignment with global development goals such as the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs the African Union Agenda 2063 and National Development Plans These initiatives all emphasise the need for countries to find new local funding sources without overtaxing their citizens Exploring zakat as a potential solution in Kenya is particularly interesting given the country's influence in East Africa and the potential impact of such a development in the region

The Socio-Cultural, Ethnic and Historic Foundations of Kenya's Electoral Violence Stephen Magu, 2018-02-02 Kenya's 2007 General Election results announcement precipitated the worst ethnic conflict in the country's history 1 133 people were killed while 600 000 were internally displaced Within 2 months the incumbent and the challenger had agreed to a power sharing agreement and a Government of National Unity This book investigates the role of socio cultural origins of ethnic conflict during electoral periods in Kenya beginning with the multi party era of democratization and the first multi party elections of 1992 illustrating how ethnic groups construct their interests and cooperate or fail to based on shared traits The author demonstrates that socio cultural traditions have led to the collaboration and frequent conflict between the Kikuyu and Kalenjin that has dominated power and politics in independent Kenya The author goes on to evaluate the possibility of peace for future elections This book will be of interest to scholars of African democracy Kenyan history and politics and ethnic conflict
