The Status of Student Involvement in University Governance in Kenya Mulinge, Munyae M.,Arasa, Josephine N.,2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya with particular emphasis on students involvement in governance processes and decision making Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance one of the principles of good governance is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders including students have a role to play in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance particularly shared governance Specifically students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance thereby limiting their influence and participation Although their representation is mainly provided via student self governance organs unions associations and or councils their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya World Review Marco Rieckmann,Rosalba Thomas Muñoz,2024-06-21 The global landscape of education has been reshaped by the COVID 19 pandemic revealing the various challenges faced by countries worldwide This book provides a comprehensive exploration of Environmental and Sustainability Education ESE across different countries offering unique insights into their histories challenges achievements and future ESE needs From Africa to Oceania the book delves into the vital role of ESE in the context of the UN Sustainable Development Goals It highlights the diverse national discourses and the flexibility required to deliver effective global education programs ESE practitioners researchers and policymakers worldwide will find inspiration and invaluable perspectives in this book Malaria Immunology Anja Tatiana Ramstedt Jensen,Lars Hviid,2022-07-26 This volume covers a broad range of methods technologies and protocols on malaria Chapters detail research on collecting parasites in the field single molecule level analyses of adhesive interactions and focused studies aiming at disrupting the devastating disease Written in the format of the highly successful Methods in Molecular Biology series each chapter includes an introduction to the topic lists necessary materials and reagents includes tips on troubleshooting and known pitfalls and step by step readily reproducible protocols Authoritative and cutting edge Malaria Immunology Targeting the Surface of Infected Erythrocytes aims to be a useful and practical guide to researches to help further their study in this field Chapter Analysis of var gene transcription pattern using DBL tags Chapter 14 is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer.com Sub-Saharan Africa: Strengthening resilience to safeguard agricultural livelihoods Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2021-12-22 In 2019 and 2020 alone sub Saharan Africa was hit by a once in a century desert locust upsurge and the COVID 19 pandemic while simultaneously facing conflict droughts and floods among other shocks and stressors More than 60 percent of the population in sub Saharan Africa depends on agriculture for food and income Smallholder farmers pastoralists fishers and foresters are the key change agents in restoring and improving livelihoods in Africa By carrying out interventions that are both anticipatory and reactive tackling the root causes of fragility the challenges facing food security and nutrition can be addressed In the effort to reach Zero Hunger by 2030 the transformation to more efficient inclusive resilient and sustainable agri food systems must be supported for better production better nutrition a better environment and a better life leaving no one behind This publication highlights how FAO is working with partners and governments to strengthen the ability of communities in sub Saharan Africa and food systems to withstand and rapidly recover from crises The organization is contributing to safeguarding the livelihoods of the most vulnerable agro pastoral households in sub Saharan Africa through a range of activities including capacity building knowledge sharing food security and nutrition analyses and anticipatory actions The achievements and interventions presented in this publication are not a comprehensive list of all of FAO s resilience work in the region but rather provide an overview of what is being done to reach our common goal This is made possible through strong partnerships at all levels Resource partners valuable contributions in particular are critical to these successes By strengthening collaboration with local regional and global partners the persistent challenges related to food crisis contexts are tackled to build back better livelihoods and agri food systems to ensure a positive future for the African people

Citizen Participation in Decision Making Njogu, Kimani,2014-01-16 This book is a result of public dialogue forums in pursuit of accountable and transparent governance in Kenya organized by Twaweza Communications with the support of Ford Foundation From the convenings it was evident that the stability of Kenya will be driven by the extent to which citizens feel fully included in the development agenda Quite often political leaders view the role of citizens in governance as restricted primarily to their participation in the electoral process This narrow view has led to arrogance and total disregard of citizens after poll results are announced Under the new political dispensation heralded by the promulgation of the Constitution of Kenya on August 27 2010 this trend must change and the sovereignty of the people in theory and practice must be reinscribed The publication raises important issues worth serious reflection It also suggests ways in which citizens can better participate in their own transformation Case studies highlighted in the book exemplify the importance building the Kenyan nation by addressing patterns of exclusion and glaring inequalities The topics covered include multipartism natural resource governance gender politics of identity marginalization of Coastal Kenya youth empowerment and investing in knowledge economy among others The book is a valuable addition to our understanding of the root political and social anxieties in Kenya and how these could be ameliorated

Application of Nanotechnology in Membranes for Water Treatment Alberto Figoli, Jan Hoinkis, Sacide Alsoy Altinkaya, Jochen Bundschuh, 2017-07-14 The book focuses on Application of Nanotechnology in Membranes for Water Treatment but not only provides a series of innovative solutions for water reclamation through advanced membrane technology but also serves as a medium to promote international cooperation and networking for the development of advanced membrane technology for Universal well being and to achieve the common goal of supplying economically environmentally and societally sustainable freshwater and better sanitation systems This book is unique because the chapters were authored by established researchers all around the globe based on their recent research findings In addition this book provides a holistic coverage of membrane development for water treatment from the membrane preparation and characterizations to the performance for specific processes and applications Since that water scarcity has become a global risk and one of the most serious challenges for the scientific community in this century the publication of this book is therefore significant as it will serve as a medium for a good reference of an alternative solution in water reclamation This book will provide the readers with a thorough understanding of the different available approaches for manufacturing membranes both with innovative polymeric systems and inorganic nano materials which could give enhanced functionalities catalytic and antimicrobial activities to improve the performance of the existing membranes It will be useful for leading decision and policy makers water sector representatives and administrators policy makers from the governments business leaders business houses in water treatment and engineers scientists from both industrialized and developing countries as well
