Effective Learning in the Life Sciences David J. Adams, 2011-10-17 Effective Learning in the Life Sciences is intended to help ensure that each student achieves his or her true potential by learning how to solve problems creatively in laboratory field or other workplace setting Each chapter describes state of the art approaches to learning and teaching and will include case studies worked examples and a section that lists additional online and other resources All of the chapters are written from the perspective both of students and academics and emphasize and embrace effective scientific method throughout This title also draws on experience from a major project conducted by the Centre for Bioscience with a wide range of collaborators designed to identify and implement creative teaching in bioscience laboratories and field settings With a strong emphasis on students thinking for themselves and actively learning about their chosen subject Effective Learning in the Life Sciences provides an invaluable guide to making the university experience as effective as possible Pastoral Care 11-16

Noel Purdy, 2013-03-14 How can teachers deal with the growing pastoral needs of pupils aged 11 16 in schools This critical guide explores the pastoral role which teachers play in schools and argues that today s schools continue to offer children an invaluable source of support This guide explores a number of serious pastoral issues drawing on contemporary research to outline the impact which these issues can have on children aged 11 16 and offering practical strategies for providing support on a whole school and individual classroom level Consideration is also given to how schools can use the curriculum proactively to help pupils be more prepared to deal with serious pastoral issues Topics dealt with include supporting children who are experiencing separation or divorce helping to prevent and deal with bullying including cyber bullying identifying and responding to possible child abuse understanding the impact of domestic violence supporting children through bereavement responding to self harm and suicide This is the essential guide for those training to teach in the secondary sector and for practicing teachers who have recently taken on pastoral responsibilities The administration of examinations for

15-19 year olds in England Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee, 2012-07-03 This report from the Education Committee looks at the administration of examinations for 15 19 year olds in England The Committee expresses serious concerns about incentives in the exam system and about competition on syllabus content Incentives in the system should be changed so the downward pressure through the competition of exam boards is mitigated The Committee considers a number of options to change incentives including i A single board This offers a simpler system with no risk of competition but the Committee believes the cost risk and disruption outweigh the benefits ii Franchising of subjects to exam boards This removes syllabus competition but again has downsides 3 Or the current system of multiple boards The Committee sees no benefit in competition on syllabus content but the setting and marking of exams and associated administration if properly regulated could generate incentives and drive quality up offering value for money to schools and colleges The Committee also recommends the development of national syllabuses accredited by Ofqual The syllabuses would be developed by exam boards in conjunction with learned bodies and employer organisations and could therefore retain the benefits of competition on quality and the incentive for exam boards to innovate

Regression of Democracy? Gero Erdmann, Marianne Kneuer, 2013-06-21 Democratization since the implosion of the communist bloc displays a mixed balance While the neo democracies in Central Eastern European Countries can be seen as largely consolidated many other processes of democratization in other parts of the world such as Africa Asia and Latin America got stuck as unconsolidated or became defective democracies some regressed into hybrid regimes or were even turned into autocracies While transitology dealt with the transition from authoritarian rule the reverse process the transition from democratic rule remained almost completely outside the scholarly attention This special issue will address the problems of the regression of democracy and aims at closing the gap between research on democracy and democratization on one side and the emergence of authoritarian regimes on the other The contributions of this volume analyse the different phenomena in which decline of democracy fans out the loss of quality which means a silent regression the backslide into hybrid regimes hybridization and the breakdown of democracy 14-19 diplomas Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education and Skills Committee,2007-05-17 In October 2004 the Tomlinson report downloadable at http://www.dfes.gov.uk/14-19/documents/Final\_Report.pdf set out wide ranging proposals for changes to the curriculum and examination arrangements for the education of 14 to 19 year olds In February 2005 the Government published its response in the form of a White Paper Cm 6476 ISBN 9780101647625 detailing a 10 year reform programme including the introduction of 14 new awards originally called vocational Diplomas thus rejecting the overarching Diploma award recommended in the Tomlinson report Whilst stating its belief that the proposed changes would have been better structured and more coherent had Tomlinson s proposals been adopted the Committee s report examines the design development and implementation of the Government s Diplomas scheme Learning to Teach History in the Secondary School Terry Haydn,Alison Stephen,James Arthur,Martin Hunt,2012-11-12 In some hands history can be an inspirational and rewarding subject yet in others it can seem dry and of little relevance The aim of this textbook is to enable student teachers to learn to teach history in a way that pupils will find interesting enjoyable and purposeful It incorporates a wide range of ideas about the teaching of history with practical suggestions for classroom practice This is the third edition of a textbook that has established itself as the leading text for student teachers of history It has been thoroughly updated with a revised chapter on the use of ICT in history teaching and major new sections in the areas of inclusion resources assessment and professional development It provides an array of references and materials that give a sound theoretical foundation for the teaching of history including weblinks to further resources A range of tasks enable students to put their learning into practice in the classroom The book also provides reference and access to a wide range of recent and relevant research in the field of history education which will be of use to student teachers pursuing courses that have a Masters Level component In all it is an invaluable resource for student and beginning history teachers In China's Wake Nicholas Jepson,2020-01-07 In the early 2000s Chinese demand for imported commodities ballooned as the country continued its breakneck economic growth Simultaneously global markets in metals and fuels experienced a boom of unprecedented extent and duration Meanwhile resource rich states in the Global South from Argentina to Angola began to advance a range of new development strategies breaking away from the economic orthodoxies to which they had long appeared tied In China's Wake reveals the surprising connections among these three phenomena Nicholas Jepson shows how Chinese demand not only transformed commodity markets but also provided resource rich states with the financial leeway to set their own policy agendas insulated from the constraints and pressures of capital markets and multilateral creditors such as the International Monetary Fund He combines analysis of China led structural change with fine grained detail on how the boom played out across fifteen different resource rich countries Jepson identifies five types of response to boom conditions among resource exporters each one corresponding to a particular pattern of domestic social and political dynamics Three of these represent fundamental breaks with dominant liberal orthodoxy and would have been infeasible without spiraling Chinese demand Jepson also examines the end of the boom and its consequences as well as the possible implications of future China driven upheavals Combining a novel theoretical approach with detailed empirical analysis at national and global scales In China's Wake is an important contribution to global political economy and international development studies

The future sustainability of the higher education sector Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education and Skills Committee,2007-08-09 Vol 1 containing the main report is also available ISBN 9780215035868 Creative partnerships and the curriculum Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education and Skills Committee,2007-10-31 Since the establishment of the National Curriculum and the National Literacy and Numeracy strategies in 1998 and 1999 concerns have been expressed that creativity and innovative approaches to teaching may have been unintentionally constrained Creative Partnerships was introduced as a two year pilot scheme in 2002 in 16 local areas and then more widely from 2004 The scheme funds creative professionals to go into schools and work in partnership with teachers and students offers continuing professional development to school staff and also provides guidance on creativity in relation to wider school improvement This report focuses predominantly on Creative Partnerships as a scheme Policy makers now appear agreed on a definition of creativity which goes beyond the expressive and aesthetic arts and agree that in educational terms creativity should extend right across the curriculum Evidence suggests a very high level of support for more creative approaches to teaching among school staff and creative practitioners Continuing professional development is of fundamental importance to embedding more creative approaches to teaching and learning and should be seen as the core of the operation Extending creative approaches beyond a particular activity and firmly embedding them in the wider curriculum remains a key challenge for schools and also for Creative Partnerships as an organisation A priority now for Creative Partnerships and its two sponsoring Government departments in planning for the future should be to produce replicable models or templates which can then be used and adapted to initiate work in other schools

Effective Assessment in the Early Years Foundation Stage Jan Dubiel,2016-07-14 This book is written by one of the leading experts on assessment It contains the deep knowledge and understanding that comes with knowing a subject inside out but Jan Dubiel's approach is very practical Professor Tina Bruce CBE University of Roehampton How we assess our youngest children is a vital part of early years practice The new edition of Jan Dubiel's bestselling book offers a clear explanation of the role of assessment in the revised Early Years Foundation Stage EYFS and step by step guidance for those working with children from birth to five on making and recording observations in practice Updated throughout the second edition now features A brand new chapter on the History of the Baseline Assessment Policy A companion website including access to SAGE journal articles child observation videos and examples of completed assessments Detailed guidance on the new Integrated Health and Education check at age two This book continues to help students and practitioners develop an evidence based understanding of assessment and an appreciation of what constitutes effective assessment in early years settings

Green Gentrification and Environmental Injustice Heather E. Campbell,Adam Eckerd,Yushim Kim,2024-09-13 This book argues that given the complex nature of the urban environment we cannot find one optimal solution to reducing environmental injustice in part because there is no singular cause Environmental injustice emerges in particular settings because of the combined and interdependent effects of a variety of different policy and community characteristics The authors argue that addressing these interlinked problems requires an understanding of the clusters of community and contextual factors that combine in a variety of ways to both create problems and imply policy approaches to managing them They argue for the use of complexity informed methods to assist in making public policy choices such as Qualitative Comparative Analysis QCA and Agent based Modeling ABM to enable us to better identify plausible solutions for specific contexts This volume offers a new perspective for strategically managing urban policy that considers the risk of gentrification and gentrification related displacement with the ultimate goal of improving social justice Environmental injustice pollution remediation gentrification and displacement are interlinked problems all of which impinge on social justice in US cities However public policy research and often practice as well has tended to separately consider urban policy issues such as environmental injustice brownfields and other pollution remediation how to redevelop neighborhoods and how to contend with gentrification and displacement In this book the authors take a new perspective to such intertwined urban policy issues using complexity thinking and more importantly complex adaptive systems approaches in order to develop context sensitive policy approaches to managing these ongoing problems

Social Science

Methodology John Gerring,2011-12-15 John Gerring s exceptional textbook has been thoroughly revised in this second edition It offers a one volume introduction to social science methodology relevant to the disciplines of anthropology economics history political science psychology and sociology This new edition has been extensively developed with the introduction of new material and a thorough treatment of essential elements such as conceptualization measurement causality and research design It is written for students long time practitioners and methodologists and covers both qualitative and quantitative methods It synthesizes the vast and diverse field of methodology in a way that is clear concise and comprehensive While offering a handy overview of the subject the book is also an argument about how we should conceptualize methodological problems Thinking about methodology through this lens provides a new framework for understanding work in the social sciences
