

GS-1881

Canine Enforcement Officer
Department of the Treasury
U.S. Customs Service

GS-1881

Use these individual occupational requirements in conjunction with the "Group Coverage Qualification Standard for Administrative and Management Positions."

EDUCATION

Undergraduate Education: Major study—any field.

Graduate Education: One full academic year of graduate education is qualifying for positions at the GS-7 level, provided that it included at least 15 semester hours of course work in such fields as police science, police administration, police law and evidence, police investigation, criminology, criminal justice, law enforcement, general law, or similar subjects pertinent to law enforcement and police work.

OR

EXPERIENCE

General Experience (for GS-5 positions): Experience that demonstrated all of the following:

- Ability to understand legal provisions, regulations, and administrative procedures and to apply them to specific situations;
- Ability to analyze narrative and numerical data, draw conclusions, and make decisions; and
- Ability to communicate with others effectively, both orally and in writing.

Specialized Experience (for positions above GS-5): Experience in law enforcement work involving the training, handling, and employment of dogs in patrol duty and/or detection of specific materials and substances such as drugs, explosives, etc. Examples of qualifying specialized experience include:

- Work as a police officer using dogs in law enforcement, patrol, or inspection work and/or detection of substances.
- Military service using dogs in patrol and inspection and/or detection of drugs, explosives, etc.
- Work as an instructor at a dog training center training dogs for law enforcement work such as patrol duty and/or detection of substances.

Specialized Experience for Interview Placement Actions Only: Experience in law enforcement work that demonstrated the ability to make rapid, accurate judgments and decisions with respect to the application of regulations, instructions, and procedures for examining and inspecting imports for admission to the United States; or inspection work concerning investigations, law enforcement, or employment of dogs in patrol duty and/or detection of specific materials such as drugs, explosives, etc.

Employees with Customs inspection experience who lack dog handling experience may be reassigned to Canine Enforcement Officer positions; however, retention in the position requires satisfactory completion of the basic training course for Canine Enforcement Officers in accordance with U.S. Customs Service requirements.

DOG HANDLER TRAINING

Successful completion of training in a school for dog handlers (other than dog obedience), e.g., patrol dog school, sniffer dog school, etc., may be substituted for specialized experience at the rate of 1 week of training for 2 weeks of specialized experience up to a maximum of 6 months of training for the 1 year of specialized experience required at the GS-7 level.
