Dimensions of the Sustainable City Mike Jenks, Colin Jones, 2009-12-17 The CityForm consortium's latest book Dimensions of the Sustainable City is the first book to report on an empirical multi disciplinary study specifically designed to address urban sustainability Drawing together the various dimensions of sustainability economic social transport energy and ecological the book examines their relationships both to each other and to urban form The book investigates the sustainability dimensions of cities through a series of projects based on a common list of elements of urban form and which draw on the consortium's latest research to review the sustainability issues of each dimension The elements of urban form include density land use location accessibility transport infrastructure and characteristics of the built environment The book also addresses issues such as adapting cities psychological and ecological benefits of green space and sustainable lifestyles each presenting a critical review of the relevant literature followed by an empirical analysis presenting the key results Based on studies across five UK cities the book draws out findings of relevance to sustainable cities worldwide As well as an invaluable reference to researchers in sustainable planning and urban design the book will provide a useful text for advanced undergraduate and graduate courses and for policy makers dealing with these issues The CityForm consortium is a multi disciplinary group of researchers from five universities funded by the UK Engineering and Physical Science Research Council from 2003-07

Architecture and Capitalism Peggy Deamer, 2013-07-18 Architecture and Capitalism tells a story of the relationship between the economy and architectural design Eleven historians each discuss in brand new essays the time period they know best looking at cultural and economic issues which in light of current economic crises you will find have dealt with diverse but surprisingly familiar economic issues Told through case studies the narrative begins in the mid nineteenth century and ends with 2011 with introductions by Editor Peggy Deamer to pull the main themes together so that you can see how other architects in different times and in different countries have dealt with similar economic conditions By focussing on what previous architects experienced you have the opportunity to avoid repeating the past With new essays by Pier Vittorio Aureli Ellen Dunham Jones Keller Easterling Lauren Kogod Robert Hewison Joanna Merwood Salisbury Robin Schuldenfrei Deborah Gans Simon Sadler Nathan Rich and Micahel Sorkin      Green Fields, Brown Fields, New Fields David Nichols, Anna Hurlimann, Clare Mouat, Stephen Pascoe, 2010 The conference explores past and future approaches to managing and designing for growth development and decline This goes beyond debates over density frontier development and renewal It includes new fields of historical policy and social research which inform discussion of heritage growth environmental economic and other issues of urban life and urban form Page iii

Eco-Urbanity Darko Radovic, 2013-12-19 There is need for change in our currently unsustainable cities Carefully outlining paths towards better sustainable ways of urban living this book proposes a radical change in the ways we conceive and live our urban environments Bringing together diverse cultural and disciplinary views on urban sustainability eighteen leading academics and practitioners in sustainable architecture and urbanism explore global concerns of sustainability and urbanity This broad range of issues are clearly articulated and linked to concrete places and projects merging research and cutting edge design investigations to promote environmentally and culturally sensitive urban futures      Growing Compact Joo Hwa P. Bay, Steffen Lehmann, 2017-07-06 Growing Compact Urban Form Density and Sustainability explores and unravels the phenomena links and benefits between density compactness and the sustainability of cities It looks at the socio climatic implications of density and takes a more holistic approach to sustainable urbanism by understanding the correlations between the social economic and environmental dimensions of the city and the challenges and opportunities with density The book presents contributions from internationally well known scholars thinkers and practitioners whose theoretical and practical works address city planning urban and architectural design for density and sustainability at various levels including challenges in building resilience against climate change and natural disasters capacity and integration for growth and adaptability ageing community and security vegetation food production compact resource systems and regeneration

International Handbook of Urban Policy H. S. Geyer, 2011 This important Handbook reveals that most urban growth takes place in the less developed world and much of it represents over urbanization that is urbanization in which most migrants cannot effectively compete for employment cannot find adequate shelter and do not have the means to feed themselves properly Yet compared to rural poverty urban poverty is widely regarded as the lesser of the two evils H S Geyer and his contributors highlight the enormous challenges posed by urbanization to decision makers at all levels of government This final volume in a series of three original reference works covers four broad themes including urban growth patterns spatial issues policy issues and urban growth determinants The chapters have been written not only for the advanced student and academics but also with undergraduate students in mind The Handbook will appeal to scholars and researchers interested in international urban development issues
