Fishing, Gone? Sid Dobrin, 2019-03-27 Humans have a rapacious relationship with the world's ocean extracting immeasurable quantities of its inhabitants and resources while simultaneously depositing unbound sums of pollution into it If we are to move toward sustainable practices then we must first move toward ways of thinking about fish and fisheries beyond mere economic agendas And there is one group in particular who could make an impact saltwater anglers Recreational saltwater fishing is big business and big culture The industry is one of the largest in the United States but that has not translated into a cohesive effort agenda or ethic Saltwater anglers a diverse group with a range of motivations do not belong to a single organization through which to galvanize significant voting or lobbying power toward conservation regulation As a result federal policymakers have traditionally focused on commercial harvesting interests Dubbed the most contemplative of pastimes recreational fishing provides a valuable perspective on how humans interact with saltwater environments Fishing Gone builds on this tradition of reflection and opens up the saltwater sportfishing life as a method for thinking through the current status of marine fisheries and environment Author Sid Dobrin calls on fellow saltwater anglers to reconsider their relationship to fishes and the ocean the sport can no longer be only about the joy and freedom of fishing but it must also be about living for the ocean living with the ocean and living through the ocean It is about securing the opportunity to fish on while meeting the economic and environmental challenges that lie ahead

Blue Ecocriticism and the Oceanic Imperative Sidney I. Dobrin, 2021-03-28 This book initiates a conversation about blue ecocriticism critical ethical cultural and political positions that emerge from oceanic or aquatic frames of mind rather than traditional land based approaches Ecocriticism has rapidly become not only a disciplinary legitimate critical form but also one of the most dynamic active criticisms to emerge in recent times However even in its institutional success ecocriticism has exemplified an ocean deficit That is ecocriticism has thus far primarily been a land based criticism stranded on a liquid planet Blue Ecocriticism and the Oceanic Imperative contributes to efforts to overcome ecocriticism's ocean deficit The chapters explore a vast archive of oceanic literature visual art television and film games theory and criticism By examining the relationships between these representations of ocean and cultural imaginaries Blue Ecocriticism works to unmoor ecocriticism from its land based anchors This book aims to simultaneously advance blue ecocriticism as an intellectual pursuit within the environmental humanities and to advocate for ocean conservation as derivative of that pursuit

Revision Decisions Jeff Anderson, Deborah Dean, 2014 Revision is often a confusing and difficult process for students but it's also the most important part of the writing process If students leave our classrooms not knowing how to move a piece of writing forward we've failed them Revision Decisions will help teachers develop the skills students need in an ever evolving writing language and reading world Jeff Anderson and Deborah Dean have written a book that engages writers in the tinkering playing and thinking that are essential to clarify and elevate writing Focusing on sentences Jeff and Deborah use mentor texts to show the myriad possibilities that exist for revision Essential to their process is the concept of classroom talk Readers will be shown how revision lessons can be discussed in a generative way and how each student can benefit from talking through the revision process as a group Revision Decisions focuses on developing both the writing and the writer The easy to follow lessons make clear and accessible the rigorous thinking and the challenging process of making writing work Narratives setup lessons templates and details about how to move students toward independence round out this essential book Additionally the authors weave the language reading and writing goals of the Common Core and other standards into an integrated and connected practice The noted language arts teacher James Britton once said that good writing floats on a sea of talk Revision Decisions supports those genuine conversations we naturally have as readers and writers leading the way to the essential goal of making meaning
