

these questions.

Question 3a: Name an important person, event, or social change which occurred in your period.

AND

Explain why this was important in the history of the region. [3 points]

Hint: You may wish to focus on how this affected other events within your region OR in other regions. Alternatively, you may wish to explain how it changed the lives of ordinary people.

Question 3b: If you were to conduct historical research about this period, what would your research questions be? Write three research questions. [3 points]

You may want to think about (i) what do we not know about this topic? (ii) how did ordinary people's lives change in this period? (iii) how did events in this region and period influence events in other regions or periods?

Hint: A good research question asks something that we do not already know OR about which people might have different views. It should also be possible to answer.

- Example of a BAD research question: What was the King of France in 1789? We already know this!
- Example of a BAD research question: How did the French Revolution change history? This is too general!
- Example of a GOOD research question: How did the French Revolution change the lives of people who lived in the countryside, outside of big cities? Different people might debate the answer to this question. We can imagine doing research that contributes to answering this question.

Question 3c: What sort of primary source would you consult to help you learn more about this period of history? [2 points]

You can give an example of a primary source that you know exists OR you can describe the type of primary source that you think might exist from this period. Be as specific as possible.

Hint: Give information about a primary source that is specific to your region and period. Do not just say "a diary." A diary belonging to whom?
