WHERE IT ALL BEGAN

When we look up into the sky, we can see an almost endless number of stars. Many of these stars are the center of their own solar systems. Millions of those stars together form the Milky Way which is our galaxy. Near one of the edges of the Milky Way is our solar system, consisting of a sun and its planets. The third planet from the sun is "Earth." It has five oceans and seven continents.

The region where Europe, Asia, and Africa meet is known as the "Fertile Crescent." Our timeline begins there about 4,000 BC when scientists agree that a cataclysmic event occurred (like a worldwide flood) that forced mankind to "start over." Scholars agree that the Fertile Crescent is where recorded or written history on Earth began; and in approximately 2,500 BC, some interesting things were happening there.

The Fertile Crescent was made up of Egypt, Palestine, Syria, and Mesopotamia ("The Land Between Summary Reframing India in World History Lavanya Vemsani, 2024-12-13 Reframing India in World History breaks the stereotypical portrayal of India based on misconstrued historical theories. Prevalent constructions of Indian history are tinged with colonial historical frameworks and presentation. It is important to understand India for what it is in the past based on self-determined frameworks derived from Indian history to reclaim India's place in the world history. Based on new evidence-based research, Lavanya Vemsani explores patterns of civilization that are indigenous to India to investigate its history from the beginning to the present. This book covers topics central to a comprehensive understanding of the nation, including a discussion of long-held cultural notions, civilization continuity, and the historical crises deriving from conquests and colonization.
