Course Description:

From the UNT Catalogue: The course provides a basic survey of the development of civilization from the Protestant Reformation in Europe to the Present. It includes descriptions of the societies, economies and states that evolved in Africa, the Americas, Asia, and Europe. It shows how nation states developed, explains the rise and decline of colonies and empires, the appearance of ideologies, and describes the appearance of economic growth and technological innovation. The course pays particular attention to the evolution of the role of women as part of the general phenomenon of modernization. Finally, the course highlights the changed roles of major religions such as Islam and Christianity. By studying these developments, students will improve their analytical skills, their competence in finding information and their communication skills.

From Dr. Burnham: Our course will use four events from World History and contextualize them within the changing social, politic, and economic landscape of global interaction. To that end, much of the course will focus on the role of colonialism and its legacies in the production of our contemporary world. Student will be pushed to consider the long durée/change over time of the World's regions and contemplate the contingencies of the global events.

Course Goals: Engaged students who come to class regularly, participate actively in discussions, and complete all readings and written assignments, will improve their ability to:
