Languages and the Internationalisation of Higher Education Dolores González-Álvarez, Esperanza Rama-Martínez, 2020-03-30 This volume offers an overview of the context of internationalisation in which plurilingualism becomes a strategic axis for universities and in which university language centres serve as the key instrument to implement this process. It focuses on three key areas in which language centres are working together with governments across Europe: namely language policy and internationalisation, specific training for the university community and language testing and accreditation. The contributors to this book are all policy makers, instructors or evaluators from university language centres involved in the internationalisation of their institutions through languages. They teach and evaluate not only regular students but students with very specific needs such as lecturers delivering content courses in English, students in mobility programmes or administrative staff in contact with international students. The book also includes the presentation of the first national higher education language policy in Europe developed by the Language Policy Commission of the Board of Rectors of Spanish Universities and endorsed by all public and private universities in Spain. Schools for the Future Europe John Sayer, Lynn Erler, 2012-03-01 Academics, policy makers and professionals explore the development of EU education policy, its impact on practice and potential future directions after the Lisbon treaty.

Innovative language teaching and learning at university: treasuring languages Alessia Plutino, Kate Borthwick, Erika Corradini, 2020-04-20 The present volume collects papers from InnoConf19 which took place at the University of Southampton on the 28th of June 2019. The theme of the conference was Treasuring languages: innovative and creative approaches in HE. The contributions collected in this peer-reviewed volume aim to reflect on best practice in higher education. They showcase innovative approaches to support the multiple skills needed in our society whilst fighting a decline in students wanting to learn languages. The short papers selected for this volume display examples of innovative curriculum design, enhancement of critical thinking, creative skills and intercultural awareness, the use of digital tools and technology, enhanced learning, employability, innovative assessment and collaborative and independent learning. We believe this volume will be of use to language teachers and practitioners in higher education and beyond. Interculturality in Learning Mandarin Chinese in British Universities Tinghe Jin, 2020-11-29 As China and Chinese language learning moves centre stage, economically and politically, questions of interculturality assume even greater significance. In this book, interculturality draws attention to the processes involved in people engaging and exchanging with each other across languages, nationalities and ethnicities. The study, which adopts an ecological perspective, critically examines a range of issues and uses a variety of sources to conduct a multifaceted investigation. Data gathered from interviews with students of Mandarin sit alongside a critical discussion of a wide range of sources. Interculturality in Learning Mandarin Chinese in British Universities will be of interest to students and academics studying and researching Chinese language education and academics working in the fields of language and intercultural communication, intercultural education and language education in general. Languages other than English in Australian Higher Education Jennifer Joan Baldwin, 2019-01-29 This book researches the study of languages other than English and their place in the Australian tertiary sector. Languages are discussed in the context of the histories of Australian universities and the series of reports and surveys about languages across the second half of the twentieth century It demonstrates how changes in the ethnic mix of society are reflected in language offerings and how policies on languages have changed as a result of societal influences Also discussed is the extent to which influencing factors changed over time depending on social cultural political and economic contexts and the extent to which governments prioritised the promotion and funding of languages because of their perceived contribution to the national interest The book will give readers an understanding as to whether languages have mattered to Australia in a national and international sense and how Australia s attention to languages has been reflected in its identity and its sense of place in the world
