Write to Be Read Barbara J. Smith, Hope Blecher, 2023-11-03 Write to Be Read is meant to inspire educators to be designers of engaging curriculum, specifically targeting ways to improve the teaching of writing in schools today. Students tend to write in response to literature, whereas the focus of this resource is to help students write material fiction and non-fiction that they want to read. Students often engage in writing that is more about pleasing the teacher or ticking a homework or assignment box. This book challenges many assumptions with reference to traditional models for teaching writing. A rich assortment of engaging examples are presented in this book to prompt educators to adapt and construct their own meaningful writing units of study.

Pencils Down! Paula Greene, 2012-09 Pencils Down has been forty-five years in the making. It is hoped that by sharing classroom experiences, the reader will be entertained, enlightened, and educated. The ideas presented are written for all educators: veteran, novice, substitute, and student teachers; parents who homeschool; college and university professors; as well as for anyone who has a child in his or her care. The guide offers the fruit of my experiences gleaned from a lifetime in the classroom. Writing this book has been a labor of love, and it is my sincere hope that all educators reading this book will find some fresh insight into the wonderful profession of teaching. Pencils Down will take you on a journey whose itinerary begins in elementary school and spans more than four decades. I have taken that journey at the head of the class. Many an author has written a book on education without ever having stepped into a real classroom. I have stepped into many classrooms many times over many years and now feel qualified to write my first book. Having successfully survived as a teacher forty-five years in the public and private sectors of both the New York and Nevada school systems prompted me to write this book: a book packed with lessons that work, school humor, enrichment activities, and sage advice ready to be used by anyone who desires to instill a love of learning in a child. You may wish to do many of the lessons with your students. Most of the text deals with activities based on beloved children's books. I have selected more than fifty children's books I most enjoyed reading and teaching my students. Although some of these books never achieved Newbery Medal award status, each book teaches something of life's lessons, and each is a gem. My first priority was selecting excellent children's books I have selected a broad and diverse collection of children's books with the hope that by using these books daily with all elementary school children each child can learn to love books and appreciate the extended benefits of lifelong literacy To give you a true flavor of what is covered a summary of each part follows

Welcome to Pencils Down Part One School Humor You are reading this either because you are contemplating a career in teaching or are curious to find out whether a veteran teacher can still be sane after spending forty five years in the classroom Part One presents the humorous side to an otherwise serious profession You will get a glimpse of nineteenth and early twentieth century rules for teachers and peruse a copy of the contract teachers were made to sign Both will make you wonder why anyone would consider a career in education You will find out what teachers make and be privy to the public's low opinion of teachers salaries If you survive the reality show for educators you may continue reading the book School anecdotal incidents accrued from many years in the classroom will be shared You will learn why God created the teacher and will be introduced to the new school policy A test designed for preschoolers will challenge you Answers from kindergartners and first graders as to why we read and write will be sure to surprise and amuse you Actual student test answers and parental notes are included both good for a chuckle The difference between an educator and a teacher will be clarified Today's schools vs schools in the 50's and 60's will make you wish you were teaching in a simpler era and make you wonder if schools are still teaching math An Australian school's answering machine will make you smile as will the eleven things you did not and will not learn in school Part Two Getting to Know You Getting to know you Getting to know all about you

Creativity and Children's Literature Marianne Saccardi, 2014-07-31 Today's students need to be able to do more than score well on tests they must be creative thinkers and problem solvers The tools in this book will help teachers and parents start students on the path to becoming innovative successful individuals in the 21st century workforce The children in classrooms today will soon become adult members of society they will need to apply divergent thinking skills to be effective in all aspects of their lives regardless of their specific occupation How well your students meet complicated challenges and take advantage of the opportunities before them decades down the road will depend largely upon the kind of thinking they are trained and encouraged to do today This book provides a game plan for busy librarians and teachers to develop their students abilities to arrive at new ideas by utilizing children's books at hand Following an introduction in which the author defines divergent thinking discusses its characteristics and establishes its vital importance chapters dedicated to types of literature for children such as fantasy poetry and non fiction present specific titles and relevant activities geared to fostering divergent thinking in young minds Parents will find the recommendations of the kinds of books to read with their children and explanations of how to engage their children in conversations that will help their creative thinking skills extremely beneficial The book also includes a case study of a fourth grade class that applied the principles of divergent thinking to imagine innovative designs and come up with new ideas while studying a social studies science unit on ecology
