A Blemished Perfection Yair Hoffman, 1996-03-01 The main methodological thesis of this study is that the book of Job more than any other book in the Bible should be treated as an artistic work in which form and content cannot be separated Hence a good acquaintance with the literary aspects of the book including its relations with other ancient Near Eastern texts is a precondition to the understanding of its theology The deep structure of the book is that of a catalogue which is a key to understanding its approach to the problem of theodicy The difficult language of Job is scrutinized and is proved to be an original and immanent characteristic of the book A synthesis of the literary linguistic and theological characteristics of Job leads to its paradoxical not absurd definition as a blemished perfection

Good Figs, Bad Figs R.J.R. Plant, 2008-03-15 Good Figs Bad Figs begins by reviewing how the Old Testament depicts YHWH exercising judgment in Israel Three broad categories of judicial action are identified selective unselective and national It is noted that more than one of these may be juxtaposed within the same text and that each is a corollary of a wider theological frame of reference The rest of the study focuses on the concept of judicial differentiation in the book of Jeremiah Jeremiah 1 20 announce wrath upon all Judah while chs 30 33 prophesy restoration for the entire Diaspora Elsewhere however YHWH's judicial action is more nuanced Jer 21 24 differentiates between those who stay in Jerusalem and those who surrender 21 1 10 between Israel's leaders and people 23 1 8 and between the exiles and non exiles 24 1 10 Jeremiah 27 29 also distinguishes between exiled and non exiled communities but adds a people and prophets polarity Finally Jer 37 45 offers hope to those who surrender 38 1 3 or remain in the land 42 1 22 alongside salvation oracles for two individuals who do not conform to these conditions 39 15 18 45 1 5 Three main conclusions are drawn Firstly the polarities of judgment and salvation in Jer are more varied than has generally been appreciated Secondly this diversity of perspective is theologically significant it is suggested that each polarity offers a valid though incomplete lens through which to interpret God's judicial action Thirdly the concepts of judicial differentiation and non differentiation may offer a helpful framework in which to read the book of Jeremiah as a whole
