Committee on Governmental Affairs, 1980 A Compilation of State Sunset Statutes with Background Information on State Sunset Laws , 1982 From Cotton Belt to Sunbelt Bruce J. Schulman, 1991 This is a carefully executed study of the effects of federal economic policy in transforming the American South from the time of the New Deal to the present Decrying the South s economic backwardness and political conservatism the Roosevelt Administration launched a series of aggressive programs to reorder the Southern economy A generation of young liberal Southerners entered the national government to preside over these policies After 1950 however Keynesianism replaced New Deal reform as the mainstay of national economic policy and the national security state supplanted the social welfare state as the South s principal benefactor Schulman here contrasts the diminished role of national welfare programs in the postwar

South with the expansion of military and growth oriented programs analyzing their contributions to the South's remarkable economic growth and the excruciating limits of that prosperity Schulman ultimately relates these developments to Southern politics and race relations A forcefully argued work From Cotton Belt to Sun Belt will be an invaluable addition to the literature and an essential guide to students and scholars of federal policy and modern Southern history Raising Standards Patricia A. Flanagan, 1999-03 Examines state higher education policies that influence student preparation for college Three policy areas are the focus of this state by state analysis raising admissions requirements for public four year colleges providing regular feedback on student preparation to high schools and establishing statewide merit aid programs

The Southern Appalachian Region Thomas R. Ford, 2021-11-21 The Southern Appalachian Region is the largest American problem area an area whose participation in the economic growth of the nation has not been sufficient to relieve the chronic poverty of its people The existence of the problem was recognized a generation ago but in the past decade the resistance of such areas to economic advance has acquired a more urgent significance in American thought In 1958 a group of scholars undertook to make a new survey of the Southern Appalachian Region Aided by grants from the Ford Foundation ultimately amounting to 250 000 they set out to analyze the direction and extent of the changes which had taken place since the last survey in 1935 to define the problem in terms of the present situation and if possible to arrive at recommendations for action which might enable the leaders of the Region and the nation to attack the problem with practical measures In this volume are presented their comprehensive reports on the Region's population its economy its institutions and its culture The problems defined by this survey are a challenge to the whole nation for the consequences of success or failure in solving them will not be limited to the Southern Appalachian Region Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications, 1988 State Boards Responsible for Higher Education, 1970 J.
