near miss hurricanes Carver's campus was soon under ten feet of water. Sobrante Park E S Oakland California. Like many schools Sobrante Park only slowly realized the paradigm shift associated with the No Child Left Behind Act until the fifth year of failing to make Adequate Yearly Progress. What do you do when all the data is bad? asked Principal Marco Franco Platte Canyon H S Bailey Colorado. Principal Brian Krause was approached by a frantic student who reported 'There's a guy in the English classroom with a gun.' I remember thinking 'okay he said guy.' He didn't say student or kid or Johnny. Other case studies include the challenges inherent in starting charter schools, discovery of systemic and deliberate grade fraud, rezoning of 95 percent of an elementary school's student population and leading a school populated by changing and often contentious residents.

The Teachers We Need vs. the Teachers We Have Lawrence Baines, 2010-03-16. Misinformation and propaganda abound about the quality of teacher preparation in the United States. The Teachers We Need vs the Teachers We Have reveals exactly how American teachers are taught, describes the wide disparities in the preparation of teachers across states, depicts how market driven teacher preparation waters down the quality of teachers and explains how teacher preparation in America compares with preparation for other careers in the United States and with teacher preparation programs in other countries.

Promising Practices for Partnering with Families in the Early Years Mary M. Cornish, 2008-08-01. This volume is directed toward research to practice issues related to partnering with families of children birth through age 5. This monograph and the next monograph focus on family and school involvement issues in two age categories. This sixth volume analyzes family involvement practices across a variety of settings and programs at the early childhood level. The seventh monograph in this series addresses research and practices related to family school issues in middle and secondary schools. The chapters address to varying degrees five themes based on the principles of family-centered partnerships: 1 Recognizing and respecting one another's knowledge and expertise 2 Sharing information through two way communication 3 Sharing power and decision making 4 Acknowledging and respecting diversity and 5 Creating networks of support. The monograph supports the accomplishment of these goals as a whole by providing important insights about exemplary programs and promising practices informed by current research. Also it highlights policies and theoretical perspectives relevant to these aims. Individual chapters offer a variety of practical strategies and recommendations that families, early childhood practitioners, policymakers and researchers can use to enhance their knowledge and strengthen their skills for partnering effectively.

The Mismeasure of Education Jim Horn, Denise Wilburn, 2013-07-01. With new student assessments and teacher evaluation schemes in the planning or early implementation phases, this book takes a step back to examine the ideological and historical grounding, potential benefits, scholarly evidence and ethical basis for the new generation of test based accountability measures. After providing the political and cultural contexts for the rise of the testing accountability movement, in the 1960s that culminated almost forty years later in No Child Left Behind and Race to the Top this book then moves on to provide a policy history and social policy analysis of value added testing in Tennessee that is framed around questions of power relations winners and losers In examining the issues and exercise of power that are sustained in the long standing policy of standardized testing in schools this work provides a big picture perspective on assessment practices over time in the U S by examining the rise of value added assessment in Tennessee a fine grained and contemporary case is provided within that larger context The last half of the book provides a detailed survey of the research based critiques of value added methodology while detailing an aggressive marketing campaign to make value added modeling VAM a central component of reform strategies following NCLB The last chapter and epilogue place the continuation of test based accountability practices within the context of an emerging pushback against privatization high stakes testing and other education reforms This book will be useful to a wide audience including teachers parents school leaders policymakers researchers and students of educational history policy and politics
