Mississippi Delta Restoration John W. Day,Jori A. Erdman,2017-11-23 This book is a new and provocative treatment dealing with and defining sustainable pathways for the restoration of the Mississippi Delta Based on a consideration of natural functioning of the Mississippi delta factors that led to its severe deterioration and major global trajectories of the 21st century the authors investigate possible future pathways for sustainable management of the delta They consider current conditions as well as future trajectories of climate and energy and resource scarcity The book concludes that without profound changes of how humans live in and manage the delta sustainability of the delta will be profoundly compromised

Normal Instructor ,1915 Children's Books in Print R R Bowker Publishing,Bowker,1999-12 Normal Instructor and Teachers World ,1923 The Role of Teacher Interpersonal Variables in Students' Academic Engagement, Success, and Motivation Ali Derakhshan,Reza Pishghadam,Anna Mystkowska-Wiertelak,2022-07-05 Qualitative Change in Human

Geography S. S. Duncan, 2013-10-22 Qualitative Change in Human Geography is a collection of studies that tackles concerns about human geography. The papers presented in the book deal with qualitative issues regarding human geography. The text contains eight different discussions that cover topics such as the direction of social practice research and the concept of people, society, and nature in social science. The book covers how economic and political interaction can explain the creation of spatial structure. The text discusses the explanatory theories and ideologies regarding the obsession of policymakers with the inner city. The book will be of great interest to sociologists, psychologists, and individuals concerned with human geography. Multilingual Learners and Academic Literacies Daniella Molle, Edynn Sato, Timothy Boals, Carol A.

Hedgspeth, 2015-03-05 Shifting the discourse from a focus on academic language to the more dynamic but less researched construct of academic literacies, this volume addresses three key questions: What constitutes academic literacy? What does academic literacy development in adolescent multilingual students look like, and how can this development be assessed? What classroom contexts foster the development of academic literacies in multilingual adolescents? The contributing authors provide divergent definitions of academic literacies and use dissimilar theoretical and methodological approaches to study literacy development. Nevertheless, all chapters reflect a shared conceptual framework for examining academic literacies as situated, overlapping, meaning-making practices. This framework foregrounds students' participation in valued disciplinary literacy practices. Emphasized in the new college and career readiness standards, the notion of disciplinary practices allows the contributing authors to bridge the language/content dichotomy and take a more holistic as well as nuanced view of the demands that multilingual students face in general education classrooms. The volume also explores the implications of the emphasis on academic literacy practices for classroom instruction, research, and policy. British Columbia's Borders in Globalization Nicole Bates-Eamer, Helga Kristín Hallgrímsdóttir, 2021-11-24 This book is a case study collection examining the influences and functions of British Columbia's BC borders in the 21st century. British Columbia's Borders in Globalization examines bordering processes and the causes and effects of borders in the Cascadian region from the perspective of BC. The chapters cover diverse topics including historical border disputes and cannabis culture and identity, the governance of transboundary water flows, migration, and preclearance policies for goods and people, and the emerging issue of online communities. The case studies provide examples that highlight the simultaneous but contradictory trends regarding borders in BC: while boundaries and bordering processes at the external borders shift away from the territorial boundary lines, self-determination, local politics, and cultural identities re-inscribe internal boundaries and borders that are both virtual and real. Moreover, economic protectionism, racial discourses, and xenophobic narratives driven by advances in technology reinforce the territorial dimensions of borders. These case studies contribute to the literature challenging the notion that territorial borders are sufficient for understanding how borders function in BC, and in a few instances, they illustrate the nuanced ways in which borders or bordering processes are becoming detached from territory. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Borderlands Studies No Regrets in the Evening of Life Neville Buch, 2018-03-14 The type of local and school history before the reader may be unfamiliar It is a definitive and scholarly history in the style of many grammar school histories in Queensland Although it is not unknown for Australian public and private schooling it is unique for Queensland state schools By saying it is a definitive and scholarly history what is meant is not that the history is complete only that it reaches decisive conclusions in a substantive treatment In this particular case the historian is someone who has been trained at the level of a higher degree Fieldwork in Humanities Education in Singapore Teddy Y.H. Sim, Hwee Hwang Sim, 2021-02-20 This book addresses the topic of humanities education fieldwork using the Singapore context as its primary focus It explores how the thought processes behind and techniques of various humanities and social sciences subjects can be applied to fieldwork in a variety of school and training settings In addition it discusses how humanities students and educators could stand to benefit from utilizing fieldwork techniques and skills used in archaeology and anthropology beyond undergraduates majoring in that discipline Finally the adoption of multidisciplinary approaches in fieldwork incorporating history geography literature and social studies demonstrate how these subjects can collaborate together in actual case studies to facilitate participants learning in the field
