

Polynomial Functions: Graphs and Derivatives, pp. 4-14 of 887

- 1) Describe the relationship between the degree of a polynomial function and its graph. Compare different types (cubic, and various degrees and combinations) of polynomial functions here. Consider, if a polynomial function is of degree n , then the graph has $n-1$ turning maximum and minimum points (possibly none). Degree 1 means 0 turning maximum points. Degree 2 means 1 turning point. Degree 3 means 2 turning maximum points. Degree 4 means 3 turning maximum points. etc.
- 2) Describe the relationship between the leading coefficient of a polynomial function and its graph. The sign of the leading coefficient affects the direction that the graph approaches as x goes to positive or negative infinity. If the leading coefficient is positive, the graph approaches positive infinity as x goes to positive or negative infinity. If the leading coefficient is negative, the graph approaches negative infinity as x goes to positive or negative infinity. If the leading coefficient is zero, the graph is a polynomial function of degree $n-1$.

3) Sketch a polynomial graph for each function described below. Graphs provided.

|--|--|--|--|
| a) a polynomial function of degree 2 with a positive leading coefficient | | b) a fourth degree polynomial function with negative leading coefficient | |
| c) a cubic polynomial function with a negative leading coefficient | | d) a 5th degree polynomial function with a positive leading coefficient | |

- 4) Sketch the graph of a polynomial function that would fit each of these sets of graphs, and write the sign of the leading coefficient.
