Deaf Education Beyond the Western World

Harry Knoors, Maria Brons, Marc Marschark, 2019-01-16 If teachers want to educate deaf learners effectively they have to apply evidence informed methods and didactics with the needs of individual deaf students in mind Education in general and education for deaf learners in particular is situated in broader societal contexts where what works within the Western world may be quite different from what works beyond the Western world By exploring practice based and research based evidence about deaf education in countries that largely have been left out of the international discussion thus far this volume encourages more researchers in more countries to continue investigating the learning environment of deaf learners based on the premise of leaving no one behind Featuring chapters centering on 19 countries from Africa Asia Latin America and Central and Eastern Europe the volume offers a picture of deaf education from the perspectives of local scholars and teachers who demonstrate best practices and challenges within their respective regional contexts This volume addresses the notion of learning through the exchange of knowledge outlines the commonalities and differences between practices and policies in educating deaf and hard of hearing learners and looks ahead to the prospects for the future development of deaf education research in the context of recently adopted international legal frameworks Stimulating academic exchange regionally and globally among scholars and teachers who are fascinated by and invested in deaf education this volume strengthens the foundation for further improvement of education for deaf children all around the world

Authorship and

Text-making in Early China Hanmo Zhang, 2018-10-08 This book is a timely response to a rather urgent call to seek an updated methodology in rereading and reappraising early Chinese texts in light of newly discovered early writings For a long time the concept of authorship in the formation and transmission of early Chinese texts has been misunderstood The nominal author who should mainly function as a guide to text formation and interpretation is considered retrospectively as the originator and writer of the text This book illustrates that although some notions about the text as the author's property began to appear in some Eastern Han texts a strict correlation between the author and the text results from later conceptions of literary history Before the modern era there existed a conceptual gap between an author and a writer A pre modern Chinese text could have had both an author and a writer or even multiple authors and multiple writers This work is the first study addressing these issues by more systematically emphasizing the connection of the text the author and the religious and sociopolitical settings in which these issues were embedded It is expected to constitute a palpable contribution to Chinese studies and the discipline of philology in general

Family Language Policies in a Multilingual World

John Macalister, Seyed Hadi Mirvahedi, 2016-12-19 Through case studies from around the world this book illustrates the opportunities and challenges facing families negotiating the issues of language maintenance and language learning in the home Every family living in a bi multilingual environment faces the question of what language s to speak with their children and must make a decision consciously or otherwise about these issues Exploring links between language policy in the home and wider society in a range of diverse settings the contributors utilize various research tools including interviews questionnaires observations and archival document analysis to explore linguistic ideologies and practices of family members in the home illuminating how these are shaped by macro level societal processes

Dangerous Fishes of New Zealand

Laith A. Jawad,2024-10-22 Among the aims of the present book is to educate locals about the danger of this group of fishes as part of a public education and awareness program that should be initiated in the coastal areas It is therefore important to identify and assess the hazards posed by various fishes in each region and bring the results to public attention In addition at locations where hazards involving dangerous fish have been identified procedures should be developed for treating any injuries sustained This book will be a reference book to both Academic and students in different disciplines of knowledge to use in their research on fishes of New Zealand and the Pacific The scholars interested in fish fauna of New Zealand will use this book as a guide to compare the dangerous fish fauna of New Zealand with those of the other parts of The Pacific regions

Beyond the Street Corner Robert F.

Hesketh,2024-12-11 This book presents an in depth investigation into street gang involvement desistance and non involvement through the lens of the Risk Factor Prevention Paradigm RFPP This framework encompasses five domains of risk and prevention family neighbourhood peers individual and school It identifies the risk and protective factors that influence young people to either engage in desist or abstain from involvement in deviant street groups Based on a comprehensive five and a half year study the author draws upon his lifelong experience living in Stockbridge Village Merseyside one of the most deprived areas in the UK marked by street gang activity and organised crime The author s unique position allows him to establish a strong rapport with young disenfranchised individuals involved in street gangs This book offers a comprehensive exploration of critical observations related to street gang involvement by integrating insights that provide a nuanced understanding of the sociocultural factors that both drive individuals toward gang involvement and contribute to their desistance from it. The author highlights key topics including the practice of drug dealing as deviant entrepreneurship, the role of friendship networks in determining engagement in street gang related activities, the allure of risk as a motivator for involvement, and the participation of young women through relationships with young men associated with street gangs. Ultimately, the work offers fresh perspectives on both gang membership and non membership, advocating for the development of homegrown interventions rooted in social capital through bridging and social mobility as viable strategies for addressing street gang involvement.

The Honorable Merchant - Between Modesty and Risk-Taking Christoph Lütge, Christoph Strosetzki, 2019-01-11. This volume explores the concept of the honest merchant, taking a broad perspective and covering a wide range of aspects. It looks at the different types of honest merchant conceptions originating from different cultures and literary traditions. The book covers Japanese, Islamic, Scandinavian, Russian, German, Spanish, as well as other aspects and studies different disciplinary backgrounds of the honest merchant, such as philosophical, economic, neuroethical, sociological, and literary ones. The concept of the honest merchant has a long tradition in business ethics. In the Hanseatic League and in medieval Italy, the ideal of the honest businessman was taught since the late Middle Ages. It originated during a time when travelling merchants were often regarded with a sceptical eye. The honest merchants of their time, however, held clear principles in their business and took responsibility for their community. In later times, the religious notions of the concept lost their pivotal place to reason and morality. This book goes beyond the tradition of discussing business ethics in association with concepts from the Hanseatic League and medieval Italy and puts the central concept of business ethics in a much greater perspective.

Pedagogies of Educational Transitions Nadine Ballam, Bob Perry, Anders Garpelin, 2016-10-04. This book presents the latest research on educational transitions from a variety of research traditions and practical contexts set in Australia, New Zealand, and several European countries. It examines critically questions and reshapes ideas and notions about children's transitions to school. The book is divided into five parts, the first two of which emphasise diversity and inclusion, with Part II focusing solely on the transition to school for children from Indigenous cultures. Part III explores the notion of continuity, which has been widely debated in terms of its role in the transition to school. Part IV explores the transition to school through the notion of crossing borders. The final section of this book, Part V, includes ideas about future directions for work in the area of educational transitions and presents the notion of transitions as a tool for change to policy, research, and practice. The book concludes with a critical synthesis of the research outlined throughout, including recommendations regarding future research related to educational transitions.

Contextual Safeguarding Carlene Firmin, Jenny Lloyd, 2023-07-20. How do we respond to harm faced by young people beyond their front doors? Can practitioners keep young people safe at school in their neighbourhoods or with their friends when social care systems are designed to work with families The Contextual Safeguarding approach has transformed how policy makers social care leaders practitioners and researchers understand harm that happens to young people in their communities and what is required to respond Since 2015 it has been tested across the UK and internationally This book shares stories from child sexual exploitation child criminal exploitation and peer violence about what has been learnt on this journey For anyone interested in how we safeguard young people beyond their front doors this book shows how much we have achieved and raises big questions about what more we need to do to ensure young people are safe whatever the context

Languages, scripts, and Chinese texts in East Asia Peter Francis Kornicki, 2018-01-19 Chinese Writing and the Rise of the Vernacular in East Asia is a wide ranging study of vernacularization in East Asia not only China Japan Korea and Vietnam but also societies that no longer exist such as the Tangut and Khitan empires Peter Kornicki takes the reader from the early centuries of the common era when the Chinese script was the only form of writing and Chinese Buddhist Confucian and medical texts spread throughout East Asia through the centuries when vernacular scripts evolved right up to the end of the nineteenth century when nationalism created new roles for vernacular languages and vernacular scripts Through an examination of oral approaches to Chinese texts it shows how highly valued Chinese texts came to be read through the prism of the vernaculars and ultimately to be translated This long process has some parallels with vernacularization in Europe but a crucial difference is that literary Chinese was unlike Latin not a spoken language As a consequence people who spoke different East Asian vernaculars had no means of communicating in speech but they could communicate silently by means of written conversation in literary Chinese a further consequence is that within each society Chinese texts assumed vernacular garb in classes and lectures Chinese texts were read and declaimed in the vernaculars What happened in the nineteenth century and why are there still so many different scripts in East Asia How and why were Chinese texts dethroned and what replaced them These are some of the questions addressed in Chinese Writing and the Rise of the Vernacular in East Asia
