Bodies on the Line Raphael Allison, 2014-12-01 Bodies on the Line offers the first sustained study of the poetry reading in its most formative period the 1960s Raphael Allison closely examines a vast archive of audio recordings of several key postwar American poets to explore the social and literary context of the sixties poetry reading which is characterized by contrasting differing styles of performance the humanist style and the skeptical strain The humanist style made mainstream by the Beats and their imitators is characterized by faith in the power of presence emotional communion and affect The skeptical strain emphasizes openness of interpretation and multivalent meaning a lack of stability or consistency and ironic detachment By comparing these two dominant styles of reading Allison argues that attention to sixties poetry readings reveals poets struggling between the kind of immediacy and presence that readings suggested and a private retreat from such performance based publicity one centered on the text itself Recordings of Robert Frost Charles Olson Gwendolyn Brooks Larry Eigner and William Carlos Williams all of whom emphasized voice breath and spoken language and who were inveterate professional readers in the sixties expose this struggle in often surprising ways In deconstructing assertions about the role and importance of the poetry reading during this period Allison reveals just how dramatic political and contentious poetry readings could be By discussing how to hear as well as read poetry Bodies on the Line offers startling

new vantage points from which to understand American poetry since the 1960s as both performance and text Moody's Industrial Manual, 1919 Poetics of Cognition Jessica Lewis Luck, 2023-08-14 Poetics of Cognition investigates the material effects of experimental poetics using new evidence emerging from cognitive science It asks How do experimental poems think and how do we think through them Examining experimental modes such as the New Sentence proceduralism projective verse sound poetry and visual poetry Jessica Lewis Luck argues that experimental poems materialize not so much the content as the activity of the embodied mind and they can thus function as a powerful scaffolding for extended cognition both for the writer and the reader While current critical approaches tend to describe the effects of experimentalism solely in terms of emotion and sensation Luck shifts from the feeling to the thinking that these poems can generate expanding the potential blast radius of experimental poetic effects into areas of linguistic sonic and visual processing and revealing a transformational potency that strictly affective approaches miss The cognitive research Luck draws upon suggests that the strangeness of experimental poetry can reshape the activity of the reader's mind creating new forms of attention perception and cognition This book closes by shifting from theory to praxis extracting forms of teaching from the forms of thinking that experimental poems instill in order to better enable their transformative effects in readers and to bring poetry pedagogy into the twenty first century The Aesthetics and Ethics of Copying Darren Hudson Hick, Reinold Schmücker, 2016-10-20 The Aesthetics and Ethics of Copying responds to the rapidly changing attitudes towards the use of another's ideas styles and artworks With advances in technology making the copying of artworks and other artefacts exponentially easier questions of copying no longer focus on the problems of forgery they now expand into aesthetic and ethical legal concerns This volume addresses the changes and provides the first philosophical foundation for an aesthetics and ethics of copying Scholars from philosophy of art philosophy of technology philosophy of law ethics legal theory media studies art history literary theory and sociology discuss the role that copying plays in human culture confronting the question of how and why copying fits into our broader system of values Teasing out the factors and conceptual distinctions that must be accounted for in an ontology of copying they set a groundwork for understanding the nature of copies and copying showing how these interweave with ethical and legal concepts Covering unique concerns for copying in the domain of artworks from music and art to plays and literature contributors look at work by artists including Heinrich von Kleist Robert Rauschenberg Courbet and Manet and conclude with the normative dimensions of copying in the twenty first century By bringing this topic into the philosophical domain and highlighting its philosophical relevance The Aesthetics and Ethics of Copying establishes the complex conditions ontological aesthetic ethical cultural and legal that underlie and complicate the topic The result is a timely collection that establishes the need for further discussion Investigation of Conglomerate Corporations United States. powerful and life changing friendship In 1988 then struggling writer and video store worker Davis Miller drove to Muhammad Ali's mother's modest Louisville house knocked on the door and introduced himself to his childhood idol Now all these years later the two friends have an uncommon bond the sort that can be fashioned only in serendipitous ways and fortified through shared experiences Miller draws from his remarkable moments with The Champ to give us a beautifully written portrait of a great man physically devastated but spiritually young playing mischievous tricks on unsuspecting guests performing sleight of hand for any willing audience and walking ten miles each way to grab an ice cream sundae Informed by great literary journalists such as Joan Didion Tom Wolfe and Gay Talese but in a timeless style that is distinctly his own Miller gives us a series of extraordinary stories that coalesce into an unprecedentedly humanizing intimate and tenderly observed portrait of one of the world's most loved men
