Temporalities Autobiography And Everyday Life Book:

Temporalities, Autobiography and Everyday Life Jan Campbell, Janet Harbord, 2002 This book offers the first sustained examination of the cultural relations of the American and Soviet avant gardes in a period of major transformation From the formation of the USSR in 1922 until its recognition by the American government American avant garde artists writers and designers watched the Red Dawn with fascination enthusiastically reporting on its post revolutionary cultural developments in articles and books and brought these works to an American audience in ground breaking exhibitions Americans also emulated and adapted aspects of Soviet culture as in the case of the New Playwrights Theatre a group that mixed Russian avant garde theatrical techniques with jazz vaudeville and slapstick comedy in plays about strikes and racial injustice Figures discussed include Louis Lozowick Jane Heap Frederick Kiesler Ralph Steiner John dos Passos Margaret Bourke White and Langston Hughes Watching the red dawn takes an innovative interdisciplinary approach considering these developments in architecture theatre film photography and literature and will be invaluable for students and specialists in these subject areas It provides a new perspective on American avant garde culture of the inter war years Postcolonial Theory and

Autobiography David Huddart, 2008-04-18 Cultural theory has often been criticized for covert Eurocentric and universalist tendencies Its concepts and ideas are implicitly applicable to everyone ironing over any individuality or cultural difference Postcolonial theory has challenged these limitations of cultural theory and Postcolonial Theory and Autobiography addresses the central challenge posed by its autobiographical turn Despite the fact that autobiography is frequently dismissed for its Western masculine bias David Huddart argues for its continued relevance as a central explanatory category in understanding postcolonial theory and its relation to subjectivity Focusing on the influence of post structuralist theory on postcolonial theory and vice versa this study suggests that autobiography constitutes a general philosophical resistance to universal concepts and theories Offering a fresh perspective on familiar critical figures like Edward W Said and Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak by putting them in the context of readings of the work of Jacques Derrida Gilles Deleuze and Alain Badiou this book relates the theory of autobiography to expressions of new universalisms that together with postcolonial theory rethink and extend norms of experience investigation and knowledge Photography, Temporality, and Modernity Kris

Belden-Adams, 2019-01-14 This book examines the photography's unique capacity to represent time with a degree of elasticity and abstraction Part object study part cultural philosophical history it examines the medium's ability to capture and sometimes defy time while also traveling as objects across time and space nexuses The book features studies of understudied widespread practices studio portraiture motion studies panoramas racing photo finishes composite college class pictures planetary photography digital montages and extended exposure images A closer look at these images and their unique cultural historical contexts reveals photography to be a unique medium for expressing changing perceptions of time and the anxiety its passage provokes Exploring Identity in Literature and Life Stories Guri Barstad, Karen P. Memorylands Sharon Macdonald,2013-07-18 Memorylands is an original and fascinating investigation of the nature of heritage memory and understandings of the past in Europe today It looks at how Europe has become a memoryland littered with material reminders of the past such as museums heritage sites and memorials and at how this memory phenomenon is related to the changing nature of identities especially European national and cosmopolitan In doing so it provides new insights into how memory and the past are being performed and reconfigured in Europe and with what effects Drawing especially though not exclusively on cases concepts and arguments from social and cultural anthropology Memorylands argues for a deeper and more nuanced understanding of the cultural assumptions involved in relating to the past It theorizes the various ways in which materializations of identity work and relates these to different forms of identification within Europe The book also addresses questions of methodology including discussion of historical ethnographic interdisciplinary and innovative methods Through a wide range of case studies from across Europe Sharon Macdonald argues that Europe is home to a much greater range of ways of making the past present than is usually realized and a greater range of forms of historical consciousness At the same time however she seeks to highlight what she calls the European memory complex a repertoire of prevalent patterns in forms of recollection and past presencing The examples in Memorylands are drawn from both the margins and metropolitan centres from the relatively small scale and local the national and the avant garde The book looks at pasts that are potentially identity disrupting or difficult as well as those that affirm identities or offer possibilities for transcending national identities or articulating more cosmopolitan futures Topics covered include authenticity temporalities embodiment commodification nostalgia and Ostalgie the musealization of everyday and folk life Holocaust commemoration and tourism narratives of war the heritage of Islam transnationalism and the future of the past Memorylands is engagingly written and accessible to general readers as well as offering a new synthesis for advanced researchers in memory and heritage studies It is essential reading for those interested in identities memory material culture Europe tourism and heritage

Emotional Geographies Liz Bondi,2016-05-13 Bringing together well established interdisciplinary scholars including geographers Phil Hubbard Chris Philo and Hester Parr and sociologists Jenny Hockey Mike Hepworth and John Urry and a new generation of researchers this volume presents a wide range of innovative studies of fundamentally important questions of emotion Following an overarching introduction three interlinked sections elaborate key intersections between emotions and spatial concepts on which each chapter offers a particular take informed by substantive research At the heart of the collection lies a commitment to convey how emotions always spill over from one domain to another as well as to illuminate the multiplicity of spaces that produce and are produced by emotional life The book demonstrates the richness that an interdisciplinary engagement with the emotionality of socio spatial life generates surveys from leading international scholars this ideal course reader uses contemporary media film texts and case studies to address key issues and debates within media and cultural studies the world over Ciaran Carson Neal Alexander,2010-09-15 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library Ciaran Carson is one of the most challenging and inventive of contemporary Irish writers exhibiting verbal brilliance formal complexity and intellectual daring across a remarkably varied body of work This study considers the full range of his oeuvre in poetry prose and translations and discusses the major themes to which he returns including memory and history narrative language and translation mapping violence and power It argues that the singularity of Carson's writing is to be found in his radical imaginative engagements with ideas of space and place The city of Belfast in particular occupies a crucially important place in his texts serving as an imaginative focal point around which his many other concerns are constellated The city in all its volatile mutability is an abiding frame of reference and a reservoir of creative impetus for Carson s imagination Accordingly the book adopts an interdisciplinary approach that draws upon geography urbanism and cultural theory as well as literary criticism It provides both a stimulating and thorough introduction to Carson s work and a flexible critical framework for exploring literary representations of space

Geographies of Peace Fiona McConnell, Nick Megoran, Philippa Williams, 2014-06-20

From handshakes on the White House lawn to Picasso s iconic dove of peace the images and stereotypes of peace are powerful widespread and easily recognizable Yet if we try to offer a concise definition of peace it is altogether a more complicated exercise Not only is peace an emotive and value laden concept it is also abstract ambiguous and seemingly inextricably tied to its antithesis war And it is war and violence that have been so compellingly studied within critical geography in recent years This volume offers an attempt to redress that balance and to think more expansively and critically about what peace means and what geographies of peace may entail The editors begin with an examination of critical approaches to peace in other disciplines and a helpful genealogy of peace studies within geography The book is then divided into three sections The opening section examines how the idea of peace may be variously constructed and interpreted according to different sites and scales The chapters in the second section explore a remarkably wide range of techniques of peacemaking This widens the discussion from the archetypical image of top down diplomatic state led initiatives to imperial boundary making practices grassroots cultural identity assertion boycotts self immolation ex paramilitary community activism and protective accompaniment The final section shifts the scale and focus to everyday personal relations and a range of practices around the concept of coexistence In their concluding chapter the editors spell out some of the key questions that they believe a geography of peace must address What spatial factors have facilitated the success or precipitated the failure of some peace movements or diplomatic negotiations Why are some ideologies productive of violence in some places but co operation in others How have some communities been better able to deal with religious racial cultural and class conflict than others How have creative approaches to sharing sovereignty mitigated or transformed territorial disputes that once seemed intractable

Geographies of Peace is the first book wholly devoted to exploring the geography of peace Drawing on both recent advances in social and political theory and detailed empirical research covering four continents it makes a significant intervention into current debates about peace and violence
