Badler, 2024-09-20 This book tells the story of building digital virtual human models in the context of the background choices and occurrences that shaped the author's own involvement and personal evolution. Such digital models found motivating applications in engineering, anthropology, medical and group simulation problems and numerous connections to other disciplines informed and enriched their design, development and deployment. This personal perspective on developments in the field is enhanced by extensive citations that provide pointers into relevant literature, recognize the contributions of co-authors and collaborators and give external evidence for claims. Both academic and corporate interest in virtual beings has exploded in recent years and while this book does not survey the current state of the art, it is an essential window into how the field arrived where it is today. The technical discussions throughout the book are deliberately accessible with extensive references to the literature for further reading. This book will be of interest to readers who want to understand the history of virtual human beings, how they evolved and especially how they must address numerous human characteristics to achieve any sense of human-ness. Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports ,1994 Computer-Generated Images Nadia Magnenat-Thalmann, Daniel Thalmann, 2012-12-06 Research, development and applications in computer graphics have dramatically expanded in recent years. Because of decreasing prices, superior hardware is now being used and image quality is better than ever. Many people now require image synthesis techniques and software for their applications. Moreover, the techniques of computer animation have become very popular. In this book, we present a wide range of applications of computer graphics. This book is a collection of 44 papers in various areas of computer graphics selected from papers presented at Graphics Interface 85. Graphics Interface 85, held from May 27 to 31 in Montreal, was the first truly international computer graphics conference in Canada. This year, for the first time, the conference was presented jointly by the Computer Graphics Society and the Canadian Man-Computer Communications Society. This new arrangement gave the conference international scope. The conference was sponsored by the Department of Communications in Ottawa, the Department of Science and Technology in Quebec, Supply and Services Canada, the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada, Hydro-Quebec, the Association Canadienne Française pour l'Avancement des Sciences and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Graphics Interface 85 was organized by 1 École des Hautes Études Commerciales of the University of Montreal. Over 100 papers were submitted to the conference but 64 were selected by the international program committee for presentation. This book contains new, expanded versions of the papers. Bitterman's Field Guide to Bitters & Amari
