Beetham,2008 The introduction of literary intertextuality into biblical studies has led to both discovery and dilemma This study proposes new definitions of an allusionary TM and an echoic TM and a methodology on how to detect them using the neglected letter of Colossians as a test case Heresiography in Context Jaap Mansfeld,2016-06-21 The study of the Elenchos c 225 CE involves the whole range of ancient interpretative traditions concerned with Greek Philosophy from Aristotle to the Late Neoplatonists The present inquiry places Hippolytus important reports about the Greek philosophers in the context of these traditions and so is able to illuminate not only what he has to offer but also to increase our knowledge of the traditions he depends on For him the Pythagoreanizing current in Pre Neoplatonism is of paramount importance Accordingly he constructs a succession diadoche starting with Pythagoras and including Empedocles Heraclitus Plato Aristotle and the Stoics and argues that the diadoche of the Gnostic heresiarchs is parasitical on its Pythagorean predecessor A new assessment of the sources used the first serious attempt since that of Diels in 1879 hinges on an analysis of Hippolytus method of presentation which is a blend of cento and exegesis geared to his anti Gnostic purpose

Heaven or Halakah Andrea L. Robinson, 2024-10-07 The idea of going to heaven is more a matter of tradition than sound biblical interpretation Often referenced to support the notion of a heavenly afterlife John 14 is a staple of Christian funerals The promise of many rooms in the Father s house is typically interpreted as Jesus assurance that he will return to usher believers into heaven However John 14 has much more to say about how we live than what happens when we die A closer look at John 14 in the broader context of the Gospel reveals that the Father s house is not a designation for heaven but a reference to God s household of faith In his going away and coming again Jesus doesn t transport his followers to heaven but rather prepares the way into the presence of God by going to the cross As Christ walks in cruciform obedience he models a new way of walking with God a new halakah based on intimate relational faith By following the halakah of Jesus through the power of the Spirit Paraclete believers are equipped to carry out God s will upon the earth and spread his redemptive mission throughout creation
