The Use of Words in Context John W. Black, Cleavonne S. Stratton, Alan C. Nichols, Marian Ausherman Chavez, 2013-06-29

The Speech Situation is a term worn with age in the teaching of public speaking in America. That it is comprised of occasion, speaker, and topic is a gross oversimplification. It also includes challenge, anxiety, emotion, fear, responsibility, faults of memory, and instants of pride. Out of the circumstances arise an increase in heart rate, a change in blood pressure, an abnormal pattern of breathing, a noticeable build up in perspiration, and an ongoing evaluation. For students, this may be merely a grade or perhaps a series of evaluative remarks, possibly addressed both to the speaker and the other participants, the audience. It may entail a replaying of a record of the speech, indeed a videotape. Most important is the lasting impression that remains with all of the participants. What of the vocabulary of the speaker under the circumstances of the speech situation?

This speaker, in the major portions of this work, we may say, this young man has spent time seeking an appropriate topic. He has outlined a composition around a central idea or thesis. He has marshaled evidence, details. He has framed an opening paragraph. He has been admonished not to give an essay but to strive for audience contact, interpersonal communication. He makes his audible approach through his vocabulary and accompanying phonology. Under the tension, the speaker repeats, he adds meaningless vocalizations in periods that might logically be pauses. There are slips of the tongue. At worst, failing, he withdraws to await another day.

Dependent Arising In Context Linda S. Blanchard,2013-01-05 Dependent arising is the backbone of the Buddha s doctrine all the other lessons he taught relate to it or refer to it in some way yet it is the least understood There is a confusion of theories as to its meaning is it about three lives or one about rebirth or moment to moment creation of the ego Yet when dependent arising is seen in the light of the central myth of the Buddha s day the creation of First Man and how that relates to our creation of self the whole structure becomes much clearer and many of the points of confusion are straightened out People have long asked for example how the actions of the second step precede consciousness in the third or why we seem to be being told that we would want to completely stop consciousness and contact with the world and feeling All these questions are easily answered when we see where the structure came from and what the lesson is really about
