Commercial Space Exploration Jai Galliot, 2016-03-09 Not since man set foot on the moon over four decades ago has there been such passion and excitement about space exploration This enthusiasm and eagerness has been spurred on by the fact that for the first time since the very beginning of the space age space travel is no longer limited to an elite group of highly trained and well disciplined military officers and test pilots Instead we must understand that the possibility of commercial space travel is already on our horizon and that it comes with a number of significant practical and moral challenges Our level of scientific development and ability to influence international affairs and policy confers upon us an obligation to study the ethical legal and social considerations associated with space exploration and understanding the potential consequences from the beginning is critical This volume provides the first comprehensive and unifying analysis concerning the rise of private space exploration with a view toward developing policy that may influence real world decision making The plethora of questions demanding serious attention privatisation and commercialisation the impact on the environment health futures risk assessment responsibility and governance are directly addressed in this scholarly work

Icarus' Second Chance Jacques Arnould, 2011-09-15 2011 fifty years separate us from the flight of Yuri Gagarin Fifty years of extraordinary successes with the kind of apotheosis represented by the first man on the moon fifty years also of bitter failures even tragic when they involved the deaths of human beings finally fifty years during which space largely contributed to the scientific and technical political and economic cultural and social transformation of humanity This is a critical analysis of the decisions and the actions which constituted and constitute still the field of astronautic activities to analyse this field s strategies and choices their consequences on the natural environment and on humans in short to work out and apply an ethical investigation This work is the fruit of research carried out by the French Centre National d Etudes Spatiales CNES over the past ten years in collaboration with many organisations astronautical or not ESA NASA and especially ESPI Ethics Handbook for the Space Odyssey Jacques Arnould, 2020-04-01 With his particular questioning style Jacques Arnould takes us on a journey through the history of space exploration and utilisation from a multidisciplinary perspective This book deals with philosophical and societal questions national and international policy legal and responsibility aspects By asking the right questions Jacques helps us understand many of the questions most humans ask themselves about why what for whom for how long and how humanity will or should expand its presence in and benefit from outer space The French CNES is the first space agency that decided to employ an expert in the ethics of space activities and the International Space University and the University of South Australia are the only where space ethics is regularly taught in its programs as part of its unique multidisciplinary curricula Le labyrinthe Joël Pagé, 2014-07-22 Quelque part dans la foret de l Arriere pays se trouverait un labyrinthe Lieu de tous les reves de tous les dangers et de toutes les chimeres personne ne sait s il existe Le labyrinthe sert de pretexte pour fertiliser l imagination et les reves influencer sur les arts Tombe dans l'inconscient on lui prêterait une forme de pensée la puissance d'une déité. Personne ne l'a traversé sans perdre la vie mais des rumeurs tenaces courent. Un homme Camelot en aurait découvert l'entrée et l'aurait exploré pour devenir ce presque vagabond qui vend des colifichets merveilleux puis disparaît pendant des mois avant de revenir des lieux pleins les yeux. Dans ce récit plurivoque ou méandres labyrinthiques et méandres de la pensée se font écho l'auteur nous livre un texte essentiel sur l'acte de création ses conséquences et les sacrifices qu'il demande. Impossible Horizon Jacques Arnould, 2017-09-11. For a long time what we now know as space was inaccessible to humans not because it was at a height which was unattainable without the least astronomical technology or principles but because of the cosmic and dualistic representation of reality. Humans were relegated to the centre to a sort of excess of imperfection, alteration, incompleteness and finally death. Around them were crystal spheres which held the planets and stars, immutable, eternal and perfect, a domain which was completely off limits to humans unless they had discarded their carnal envelope either through a mystical experience or after death. It took a revolution, the Copernican Revolution, to shatter the celestial spheres and make them no longer forbidden territory. Galileo was one of the first revolutionaries through his astronomical observations he showed the Earth and the Sky were in fact made of the same fabric, the same material and therefore belonged to the same world. Then followed Kepler and others. Centuries passed and humans conquered the air and then space. Their feet touched the surface of the Moon and their wheels the surface of Mars. The Earth and the entire universe somehow became flat again with no folds, no curves at least in appearance to hide any dark corners. The horizon once again retreated out of reach taking with it perhaps the last dreams of exploration. The human imagination does not like horizons which are too flat, too clear, humanity needs to meet resistance, brakes, constraints to stop them in their tracks to cross them and lead them to new unknown territories. An impossible Horizon writes Jacques Arnould in this work but a horizon without which our adventures, our explorations would lose their savor and especially their meaning. We will then understand that even if the goal is never fully achieved it is the quest that enriches us. i Bertrand Piccard, Balloonist, aviator and psychiatrist.
