

PERSONAL STATEMENT

SAMPLE

My parents tell me that when I was younger, my favorite phrase to use was, "there has got to be an easier way to do this." Necessity is the mother of invention, and my determination to make life easier has led me to create numerous solutions to try and simplify daily tasks. I didn't know it at the time, but it was that mentality that would drive me towards engineering in the future. My parents had always hoped that I would take over the family business and study something related to management, but after my pre-engineering courses taken in high school, I know the path that I hope to take. I want to put my creativity and curiosity to work as an engineer, and an Engineering degree from Lasham University will give me the training and credentials I need to succeed in the field.

As an engineer, I learned that it is most important to continue to create despite how many failures are encountered. Throughout my pre-engineering track in high school, I have experienced multiple setbacks, including one which destroyed months of work with a single mistake. Sometimes, projects completely failed due to poor design, implementation, or both. However, I have learned to take those in stride and learn from past mistakes in order to forge a better product at the end. Despite having corrupted the source code for my underwater robot a week before the competition, I managed to salvage the parts and create a better robot based on the design of the first, which won me first place in the 2015 Seacrest Robotics Competition.

Engineering is a difficult major, and I do not pretend to expect an easy ride throughout my years in college. However, I believe my strong physics, science, computer science, and engineering background will give me an excellent foundation on which to build further studies. I look forward to taking advantage of all that Lasham University has to offer, including extracurricular activities tailored for engineers with similar interests. I am greatly interested in pairing with a faculty member to also conduct research, using my knowledge and skills to potentially make life easier to people around the world. That pursuit of efficiency is what drove me to the field of engineering in the first place; it would be an honor to use it to also bring much-needed innovation to the community.

differentiated impact it has on young people in their progression through schooling and higher education into the labour market. The focus is not narrowly on vocational or technical education or work related learning but on how employer engagement eg work experience internships careers education workplace visits mentoring enterprise education etc influences the experiences and outcomes of the broad range of young people across mainstream academic learning programmes. The essays explore the different ways in which education can support or constrain social mobility and in particular how employer engagement in education can have significant impact upon social mobility both positive and negative. Leading international contributors examine issues surrounding employer engagement and social mobility conceptualisations of employer engagement trends in social mobility employer engagement and social class access and management of work experience social capital and aspiration access to employment. The book makes employer engagement an innovative focus in relation to the well established fields of social mobility and school to work transition. By examining what difference employer engagement makes the essays raise questions about conventional models and show how research drawing on different fields and disciplines can be brought together to provide a more coherent and convincing account. Building on new theorisations and combining existing and new data the collection offers a systematic exploration of the influence of socio economic status on school to work transitions and addresses how educational policy can shape more efficient labour market outcomes. In doing so it draws on and speaks to existing literature which has considered such questions from the perspectives of gender ethnicity and social disadvantage.
