Cullen, K. Praveen Parboteeah, 2009-09-10 A new international business text for a new and ever changing global environment An Introduction to Green Criminology and Environmental Justice Angus Nurse, 2015-11-23 A comprehensive introduction to green criminology this book is a discussion of the relationship between mainstream criminal justice and green crimes Focused on environmental harm within the context of criminal justice this book takes a global perspective and Introduces students to different theoretical perspectives in green criminology Looks at the victims of environmental crime throughout Covers topics such as wildlife crimes animal abuse the causes of environmental crime regulation exploitation environmental activism policing prosecution and monitoring Designed to help readers develop a thorough understanding of the principles of environmental justice and green criminology as well as contemporary developments this book will be excellent support to students of green criminology and environmental crime

Placing Nature on the Borders of Religion, Philosophy and Ethics Dr Forrest Clingerman, Mr Mark H Dixon, 2013-06-28

The natural world has been humanized even areas thought to be wilderness bear the marks of human impact But this human impact is not simply physical At the emergence of the environmental movement the focus was on human effects on nature More recently however the complexity of the term nature has led to fruitful debates and the recognition of how human individuals and cultures interpret their environments This book furthers the dialogue on religion ethics and the environment by exploring three interrelated concepts to recreate to replace and to restore Through interdisciplinary dialogue the authors illuminate certain unique dimensions at the crossroads between finding value creating value and reflecting on one's place in the world Each of these terms has diverse religious ethical and scientific connotations Each converges on the ways in which humans both think about and act upon their surroundings And each radically questions the damaging conceptual divisions between nature and culture human and environment and scientific explanation and religious ethical understanding This book self consciously reflects on the intersections of environmental philosophy environmental theology and religion and ecology stressing the importance of how place interprets us and how we interpret place In addition to its contribution to environmental philosophy this work is a unique volume in its serious engagement with theology and religious studies on the issues of ecological restoration and the meaning of place

Fossil Fuels, Oil Companies, and Indigenous Peoples

Tobias Haller, 2007 Fossil Fuels Oil Companies and Indigenous Peoples is a study of oil production that focuses on the places from which oil is extracted and on the problems both environmental and human created in those places Global public awareness of the devastating impact of oil extraction on local communities has grown considerably in recent years due in large part to Ken Saro Wiwa's work on behalf of the Ogoni in south eastern Nigeria and his death in 1995 at the hands of Nigeria's military dictatorship This volume consists of eight case studies all of them examining these questions What can indigenous people do when faced with the destruction of their natural and social habitats And how do oil companies respond to the various forms of local and indigenous resistance to their activities The eight case studies deal with oil producing regions in Alaska Ecuador Venezuela Peru Colombia Nigeria Papua New Guinea and West Siberia and encompass 18 indigenous population groups

Handbook of Research on Connecting Philosophy, Media, and Development in Developing Countries Okocha, Desmond Onyemechi, Onobe, Melchizedec J., Alike, Mirian Ngozi, 2022-05-13 Developing nations have been experimenting with different models and theories in their quest for development for decades but are missing some critical elements when mirrored or judged via a Westernized lens In order for these countries to successfully establish their identity and address issues that have held them back in the past further study on the use of media and philosophy in correlation with development must be conducted The Handbook of Research on Connecting Philosophy Media and Development in Developing Countries examines how media can be utilized to bridge the gap between the past and the future for developing countries and drive sustainable development The book also seeks to reimagine development within
